INTRODUCTION

This is a book for lovers of America's music...Country Music! Exhaustively researched and painstakingly reviewed, this guide documents nearly 15,000 record albums representing over 4,000 performing artists!

Country music as we know it today is a hybrid of traditional country and western styles augmented with traces of bluegrass, jazz, blues, folk and early rock and roll. Some of the recent country hits have been such a throwback to fifties' rock stylings that, not surprisingly, devotees of the exciting music that hailed rock's first decade have turned to country music. Further fueling this interest is the crossover to country by many of the pop and rock stars of the fifties and sixties. The list of names that have packed bag and baggage and moved to Nashville, if only figuratively speaking, is quite lengthy.

Deciding which artists to include in this guide and which ones we could do without presented some problems, but our general desire to be as comprehensive as possible probably brought about the inclusion of quite a few artists who would be considered borderline. Usually, when it was a tossup, we went ahead and listed them.

Naturally, we would appreciate knowing about any artists whose recordings fall within the scope of this guide, as well as albums and extended plays that we may have missed by the artists listed in this edition.

HOW TO USE THIS GUIDE

Even though this volume is crammed with historical documentation of an endless variety, it is most frequent called upon for its price guide data. Some background information and suggested guidelines are, therefore, essential.

Record values contained in this edition were averaged from information derived from a number of sources. Most influential in arriving at current values was the line-by-line review of the listings by a couple of dozen of the nation's top country music dealers and collectors. The balance provided by both dealers, whose objectives would be to value their current inventory at prices that would allow a timely sale, and private collectors, whose primary activity is bidding on and buying albums, provides an excellent barometer.

Also bringing a great deal of expertise to the pages of this guide were the many dealers and collectors who specialize in certain artists. Not only does this give us complete discographies, accurate titles and catalog numbers but more importantly, up to the minute data on pricing for those performers. If there are fan clubs or appreciation societies for any artists whose section still needs a tune-up, we would be delighted to hear from you. We can never receive too much information from readers!

Other sources of important information include: sale lists, auction results, convention trading and my own personal visits and discussions with hobbyists from coast-to-coast.

Record prices, as with those in most types of collectibles, can vary drastically from one area of the country to another. We have attempted to present a realistic average of the highest and lowest current asking prices for an identically graded copy of each record. Keep in mind, too, that this information was applicable at press time, but is subject to market changes, major discoveries, quantity dumps, sudden increases wrought by an artist's death, overnight stardom that creates a greater demand for earlier material and other such events and trends that affect scarcity and demand.

This guide lists U.S. issues only. The thousands of releases from Canada, Europe and elsewhere certainly have collector value to both fans in those countries as well as to many U.S. collectors. Unfortunately, the tremendous volume of material and the variances in pricing foreign releases make it impossible to consider documenting anything other than U.S. issues.

All the price guides and reporting of previous sales in the world won't change the basic fact that true value is nothing more than what one person is willing to accept and what another is prepared to pay. Of course it is scarcity and demand that is the foundation for such a transaction in the first place.

A collectible recording can be 50 years old, but if no one wants it then its value will certainly be minimal. Just because something is old does not make it valuable. Someone has to want it!

On the other hand, a recent release from just a few months ago can have exceptionally high value if it has already become scarce and is by an artist whose following has created a demand.

As nearly every one in the hobby knows, there is a noteworthy difference between the prices reported in this guide and the prices that one can expect a dealer to pay when buying records for resale.

Unless a dealer is buying for his personal collection and without thoughts of resale, he or she is simply not in a position to pay full price. Dealers work on a percentage basis, largely determined by the total dollar investment, quality & quantity of material offered as well as the general financial condition & inventory of the dealer at the time.

Another very important consideration is the length of time it will take the dealer to recover at least the amount of the original investment. The greater the demand for the stock and the better the condition, the quicker the return and therefore the greater the percentage that can be paid. Our experience has shown that, day-in and day-out, most dealers will pay from 25% to 50% of 'guide' prices.

There is an avalanche of helpful information in this guide to aid the collector in determining what is valuable and what may not be worth fooling with, but the wise fan will also keep abreast of current trends and news through the pages of the fanzines and publications devoted to their favorite forms of music. Some of the more recommended reading can be found in the ad section of this edition.

EXPLANATION OF THE FORMAT

Since it seems unnecessary to repeat on every page a description of what the familiar columns used in this guide represent, a brief explanation follows:

ARTIST'S NAME	Value for GOOD condition	Value for NEAR-MINT
PRIDE, Charley LP AMAZING LOVE .....	RCA Victor (S) APL1-0397	2 10 73
TITLES	LABEL & NUMBER	STEREO CODING	YEAR OF ISSUE

CHANGES IN THE PRICING SPREAD

For the past decade, a spread of four-to-one has been used in evaluating the difference between a 'good' condition record and a 'near-mint' copy. While accurate in its time, the market has changed with regard to condition. Near-mint copies of older releases are getting harder and harder to find with each year that passes, placing a greater premium on them. Also evident is the lack of interest in anything less than a 'very good' copy of the lower ticket items. After all, why settle for a one dollar 'good' copy of a disc that you can get in new condition for only four bucks?

In this edition, the price spread ranges from five-to-one to eight-to-one. This spread more accurately represents the marketplace. Prices of less than one dollar in the 'good' column are not given. Also not listed are prices other than near-mint on the new compact discs. Firstly, they are so new that there are no 'used' copies yet known, and secondly, they are virtually indestructible under normal handling and playing conditions.

ONE MAN'S TRASH IS ANOTHER MAN'S TREASURE

The purpose of this guide is to report as accurately as possible the most recent prices asked and paid for records within the area of its coverage. There are two key words here that deserve emphasis: guide and report.

I cannot stress enough that this book is only a guide! There always have and always will be instances of records selling well above and below those prices shown within these pages. These extremes, of course, are recognized in the final averaging process. But it's still important to understand that just because we've reported a 30-year old 10-inch LP as having a $30 near-mint value, doesn't mean that a collector of that material should be hesitant to pay $100 for it. How badly he wants it and how often he has an opportunity to purchase it at any price should be the prime factors considered...not the fact that we last reported it at half that price. Naturally, we'd like to know about sales of this sort so that the next edition can reflect the higher price paid.

Our objective is to report record marketplace activity; not to establish prices. For that reason, we'd prefer to always be a bit behind the times than ahead.

CROSS REFERENCING GUIDELINE

The cross referencing in this edition should provide the easiest possible method of discovering other sections of the book where a particular artist is featured or appears in any capacity.

With some performers, such as Willie Nelson, George Jones & Waylon Jennings, who have made numerous guest appearances on other artists' recordings, the cross referencing will effectively take you to those listings. If known, the specific tracks wherein that artist appears will be detailed in a footnote under the LP itself.

Studio musicians who have also recorded on their own are a bit more difficult to comprehensively cross reference. In many cases they are credited on the LP, but with older issues crediting the pickers and back-up vocalists was seldom done.

Artist's headings and resultant cross referencing appears in two different formats in this guide. For example:

PRICE, Ray, & Willie Nelson

LP
SAN ANTONIO ROSE .....Columbia (S) JC-36476 1 8 80

Listings under this type heading are those wherein the artists sing or play together. Often these releases will also include solo tracks by one or all of the performers in addition to those on which they collaborate.

PRICE, Ray / Lefty Frizzell / Carl Smith

LP
GREATEST WESTERN HITS, VOL. 1 .....Columbia (S) CS-8776* 3 15 63

This heading, with names separated by a slash, indicates that there are selections by each of the named artists on the LP, but they do not perform together. The limit set for these 'various artists' albums in this edition is four acts. Compilation LPs containing five or more individual performers will be documented in another guide devoted strictly to various artists releases.

Not to be confused with various artists LPs are those wherein the theme of the LP is built around a specific artist, with several artists included. A couple of examples are 'The Wilburn Brothers Show' and 'Ernest Tubb's Midnight Jamboree', which feature many guests but rightfully belong in those artists' sections and are therefore listed in this book.

ADDITIONAL POINTS

...song titles, printed in upper and lower case instead of all caps, that appear on the title line are given to assist you in identification, particularly of EPs. Several EPs in a section may bear the same title, usually just the artist's name, and the adding of the title of one of the lead tracks should be helpful in sorting them out. Of course the catalog numbers vary from one EP to another too. Similarly, when LP titles include data in uppers and lowers, it is provided for your information only and not as part of the actual title. The same applies to any text placed in brackets.

...certain explanatory footnotes that apply to original releases probably apply to any reissues and are therefore not repeated. For example, if a particular LP features a guest artist, you can assume that piece of information is applicable to the reissues even though we've chosen not to unnecessarily duplicate it.

...some labels, such as Folkways and Arhoolie, maintain rather complete current catalogs of their older releases. This accounts for below average prices on LPs that may have first been issued 20 years ago, but have never gone out of print and can still be purchased $8 or $10 today.

...prices that fall below one dollar for 'good' condition copies are not given. Instead, a dash is used to indicate such minimal values.

...all EPs are monaural except those wherein the stereo symbol (S) appears following the label name.

...every LP and EP listed is presumed to have its original cover or jacket and that the condition of the cover be identical to the disc. An appropriate adjustment in value should be made to reflect differences in this area. Records issued without standard EP and LP covers are individually designated as such in this guide.

...in order to devote the necessary space to the hundreds of artist photos appearing in this edition, we were forced to pass on using photos of EPs and LPs. It's been many years since we've had a book that emphasized artist photos, so we figured it was time.

...a completely new computerized format and pagination program was used in setting type and in page layout for this guide. While affording countless improvements over older methods, there were still a few 'bugs' that we didn't have time to remedy. Occasionally you'll notice a record listing taking one line more than would have really been needed, or perhaps a word or piece of text breaking at an abnormal point. Just thought you should know why these things happen.

...the 'money' records in this edition are set in a bold, standout, type. Some readers like to quickly discover those particular gems that are the most valuable, and now the eye can easily locate records carrying a NM price of $50 or more.

...artist photos that are not directly preceeding their section or placed within their section are captioned. Also captioned are photos including persons pictured that are not included in that particular section of the guide.

...we encourage record companies, talent agencies and performers to make certain that we are on the active mailing list for new release information, press releases, bios, publicity photos and anything pertaining to recordings. Our correct address and phone number follows this introductory section.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Please note that I am no longer affiliated with O'Sullivan & Woodside, book publishers! This and future books will be published by Osborne Enterprises, LTD. and will be distributed and sold through Jellyroll Productions.

Although the advantages of self-publishing are numerous, one of the most instantly recognizable to readers will be the ability to offer a huge book with hundreds of illustrations, such as this edition, for a comparatively low cover price. Similar benefits await the wholesalers, with favorable terms & discounts from Jellyroll Productions.

STANDARD RECORD GRADING

Condition is the most important consideration in the value of any record. The same holds true for record sleeves and jackets. As discussed earlier in this edition, we've seen an increase in the spread between G (Good) and NM (Near mint), with all indicators pointing to even greater premiums being placed on record collectibles that are VG+ or better.

The following grading symbols, which are used in this guide, have become standard in the hobby. A brief explanation of each is provided:

M (Mint) - A mint record is a perfect record. Its condition is tantamount to an unopened, unhandled and unplayed record. Since few records, particularly older releases, can truly live up to these requirements, the highest grade used in this guide is NM (Near Mint). This allows for the ever-so-slight difference between an handled, unplayed, disc and one that has been played but looks and plays like it was hot off the press. In some cases, a premium may be charged above the NM guide price for an absolute mint record. Often these are copies that are still factory sealed in shrink wrap and are genuinely unopened.

With LP and EP covers and labels, as well as picture sleeves and other printed materials, the same standards are applicable. Any signs of wear, aging, writing or defects will reduce them to a lesser grade.

VG (Very Good) - Probably the most common grade used in dealing used records. A 'Very Good' record will show slight signs of handling and playing, but not to the extent of seriously detracting from the appearance or sound of the disc. VG is a grade that is midway between G and M and is occasionally equated to 'Average' condition.

Printed materials in VG will show slight signs of wear. Minor markings, scuffs, tears, stickers and splits may exist, but should not deface the cover or label. May require a minimum amount of repair or touch-up, but should not be taped or stapled. Any writing done should be slight, not on an important part of the cover or label, and not an obnoxious distraction.

G (Good) The lowest grade priced in this guide, 'Good' condition records should be good enough to enjoy; to keep in your collection until a better copy comes along. There may be scratches and scuffs that create an audible amount of distraction from the recorded sound, but the record should play all the way through without skips. Slight warping may have occurred, but again, not enough to prevent complete tracking of the disc without having to resort to adding extra weight to the tone arm.

Printed materials in G will be clearly worn. Covers may have noticeable defects of numerous types, including the use of tape. There should be no major tears or chunks missing on either covers or jackets. May have writing on covers or labels, but not the felt marker cross-outs of certain selections that some radio station personnel have become famous for over the years.

F (Fair) A record in 'Fair' condition would probably only be of interest if the disc was so scarce that the likelihood of finding a better quality copy was nil. If a record or sleeve doesn't quite seem to measure up to G (Good), it's probably in F condition. Though this guide uses G as the bottom end of the pricing range, a good rule of thumb for F condition is to figure about 50% of the G price.

There are many additional symbols and abbreviations used in the advertising and sale of collectible records. Any of the publications serving the marketplace can provide additional information on grading symbols.

LABEL NOTES & CATALOG INFORMATION

Special designation is made for each LP, using an asterisk immediately following the catalog number, when it is known that both a monaural and stereo version were issued simultaneously.

Though considered standard practice by most of the major labels from around 1960 to mid-1968, many of the smaller companies issued only monaural or only stereo recordings during these years of transition to stereo.

Adding to the dilemma of documenting these releases is the common practice of packaging monaural albums in covers that read 'stereo,' pressing records using any of the forms of fake or electronic stereo and claiming the tracks to be 'stereo' and, of course, out and out lack of concern by some labels as to whether the tunes were stereo or were not.

Since I've yet to meet a music collector who wouldn't rather have a package of tracks that were originally recorded in monaural appear on the disc in authentic monaural, we've listed the mono issue of LPs that were simultaneously issued in fake stereo. Likewise, when we've found that there is true stereo on the LP, even if just one track, we'll list the stereo only.

When we've learned of a noteworthy difference of value between the mono and stereo issues, when released at the same time, both will be listed and separately priced. You'll find that stereo LPs from the late fifties and early sixties are usually scarce as are monaural issues from the '67-'68 period.

For albums that were first issued in mono but years later reissued in fake stereo, we've listed both. The major reason for the duplicate listings is the usual difference in value between the two. It is also done in keeping with our policy of identifying reissues and repackages.

Most labels utilized different catalog numbers or prefixes for mono and stereo issues. To assist you in identifying the version of an LP that is NOT LISTED because it is simply a mono or stereo duplication, use the following label notes. Also included with this table is an assortment of other useful information about the record companies' pricing and prefixing of their albums.

All label notes and prefixing information is of a general nature and intended to apply to MOST of their LPs. There are many special editions, multiple album sets and unexplainable deviations, as I'm sure you realize.

In some instances, most notably United Artists, current subsidiary labels may have been recent acquisitions that were once independents. In order to present to you the current industry picture, labels are listed in accordance with their status at press time.

Labels listed as 'Other Labels' following certain sections are documented for your general information, but their product is outside the scope of material covered by this book.

CAPITOL

(LP releases from the late forties to present):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues with a T prefix were counterparts to STEREO issues using an ST prefix. When reprocessed stereo releases became widespread, Capitol designated a DT prefix to indicate those LPs that were in electronic (duophonic) stereo.

CURRENT CATALOG & PRODUCT PRICING:

SJA series LPs list for $3.98.

DLP series LPs list for $4.98.

M, MLP, N, DN, SM & SN series issues are mid-line priced at $5.98.

SP & SQ-12000 series issues list for $6.98.

SK series LPs list for $7.98.

DKAO, DT, DW, SHAL, SKAO, SMAL, SMAS, SO, SOO, ST, STAO, SW & SWAK series LPs list for $8.98.

STBB indicates a two disc set that lists for $8.98

SV & SWAV series LPs list for $9.98.

SKB, SKBB, STB, SVBB & SWBB series issues are two disc sets that list for $10.98.

SABB & SWBC series issues are two disc sets that list for $11.98.

STBK indicates a two or three disc set that lists for $12.98.

SKBL, STBO & SWBK series issues are two disc sets that list for $13.98.

SKC indicates a three disc set that lists for $13.98

SKBO & SWBO series issues are two disc sets that list for $14.98.

STCH indicates a three disc set that lists for $14.98.

CAPITOL FIRST PRESSING IDENTIFICATION:

Until around 1958, Capitol LPs were on a green label. They then switched to a black label with a multi-color circular band. This label had the Capitol Tower logo on the left side. About four years later, they moved the logo to the top of the label, keeping the same basic colors as before. In the early seventies, Capitol went to an orange label, which, after about three years, was replaced by a purple label that looked much like the Capitol 45 & 78rpm label of the fifties.

CAPITOL SUBSIDIARY LABELS:

TOWER

(LP releases from 1964-65 to 1968-69):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues with a T prefix were counterparts to STEREO issues using an ST prefix. When reprocessed stereo releases became widespread, Tower designated a DT prefix to indicate those LPs that were in electronic (duophonic) stereo.

OTHER CAPITOL LABELS: Harvest; Gold Coast; Spector Int'l; Mainstreet; Montage.

CHALLENGE

(LP releases from 1958 to the late sixties):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues with a CHL prefix were counterparts to STEREO issues using a CHS prefix.

COLUMBIA

(LP releases from the late forties to present):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues in the CL-1000 & CL-2000 series were counterparts to STEREO issues in the CS-8000 series.

COLUMBIA FIRST PRESSING IDENTIFICATION:

Around 1956 Columbia ceased using their red label with gold lettering and switched to black lettering on the red label. For five or six years this label had three of the CBS/ Columbia 'eyes' on each side. Then, still on the red label, they began using just one 'eye' on each side, now in white ink rather than black. At a time not yet pinpointed, Columbia began using the red label with the name Columbia circling the label in yellow ink.

COLUMBIA SUBSIDIARY LABELS:

EPIC

(LP releases from the mid-fifties to present):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues in the LN-3000 series were counterparts to STEREO issues in the BN-500 series. Also, MONO issues in the LN-24000 series were counterparts to STEREO issues in the BN-26000 series.

EPIC FIRST PRESSING IDENTIFICATION

Epic used a yellow label, the actual shade of which changed over the years, until about 1973. They then went to their orange label.

HARMONY

(LP releases from the mid-fifties to the early seventies):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues in the HL-7300 & HL-9000 series were counterparts to STEREO issues in the HS-11000 & KH-30000 series.

CROWN

(Budget LP releases from the mid-fifties to mid-sixties):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues with a CRL & CLP prefix were counterparts to STEREO issues using a CST or SLP prefix.

Although the label began issuing original material, usually tracks leased from such companies as Modern, RPM & Flair that had never appeared on LP, they are best known as a reissue label; one of the first and most prolific whose catalog once contained hundreds of titles.

DATE

(LP releases from the mid to late sixties):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues in the 3000 series were counterparts to STEREO issues in the 4000 series.

DESIGN

(Budget LPs released in the early sixties):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues with a DLP prefix were counterparts to STEREO issues using an SDLP prefix.

DOLTON

(LP releases from 1959 to 1967):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues in the BS-16000 series were counterparts to STEREO issues in the BST-17000 series.

DOLTON FIRST PRESSING IDENTIFICATION:

Dolton started using a light blue label in 1959, but switched to a dark blue label in 1963-4. Dolton's label during their last couple of years was mostly black.

ELEKTRA

(LP releases from the mid-fifties to present):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues in the EKS series were counterparts to STEREO issues in the EKS7 series.

CURRENT CATALOG & PRODUCT PRICING:

6E-100, 6E-200, 5E-500, 7E-1000, E1-60000, EKS-7200, EKS-7300, EKS-74000, & EKS-75000 series issues are all listed at $6.98.

7E-2000 & 8E-6000 are two disc sets that list for $13.98.

ELEKTRA FIRST PRESSING IDENTIFICATION:

Until early 1969, Elektra used a brown label. At that time they switched to a red label. Later, in the seventies, they began using the green 'butterfly' label.

EVEREST

(LP releases from the late fifties to present):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues in the BR-5000 or LPBR-5000 series were counterparts to STEREO issues in the SD-100 or SDBR-1000 series. A thorough examination of Everest's catalog follows:

CURRENT CATALOG & PRODUCT PRICING:

CML, TDP, S, SDBR, 4000 & 50000 series issues are $5.98 list.

OTHER EVEREST LABELS: Golden Age; Olympic; Tradition

HICKORY

(LP releases from 1961 to the late seventies):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues with an LPM prefix were counterparts to STEREO issues using the LPS prefix.

In the early seventies, Hickory releases were distributed by MGM. In the late seventies, they switched to ABC. Albums issued during these years are identified in this guide as MGM/Hickory or ABC/Hickory and are shown with catalog numbers and prefixes reflecting same.

LITTLE DARLIN'

(LP releases from 1966 to the late seventies):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues in the LD-4000 series were counterparts to STEREO issues in the SLD-8000 series.

MCA

(LP releases from 1973 to present):

MCA began by reissuing a healthy share of the huge Decca catalog, while also developing new product by the Decca talent on the label at the time of the changeover. As time passed, MCA acquired the catalogs of other major labels of the fifties and sixties, such as ABC-Paramount, Dunhill, Dot, Duke and others.

CURRENT CATALOG & PRODUCT PRICING:

MCA 1 to 900 series issues were once full price but are now mid-line priced at $3.98.

MCA 1500 series LPs are 'Collectibles,' or oldies collections, listed at $4.98.

MCA 2000 & 3000 series LPs list for $7.98.

MCA 4000 & 5000 series LPs list for $8.98.

MCA 6000 series LPs list for $9.98.

MCA2-8000 series releases are two LP sets listed at $10.98.

MCA2-10000 & 11000 series releases are two LP sets listed at $12.98.

MCA2-12000 series releases are two LP sets listed at $13.98.

MCA 15000 series LPs are Christmas mid-line product, listed at $3.98.

MCA3-19000 series releases are three LP sets listed at $16.98.

MCA 27000, 28000 & 29000 series releases are listed at $5.98.

MCA 37000 & 38000 series releases are listed at $5.98.

MCA 39000 series LPs list for $6.98.

MCA 70000 series LPs list for $11.98.

MCA SUBSIDIARY LABELS:

ABC-PARAMOUNT

(LP releases from 1957 to 1966 as ABC-Paramount; from 1966 to 1974 as ABC; from 1974 to 1978 as ABC/Dot; from 1978 to 1979 as ABC):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues with an ABC prefix were counterparts to STEREO issues using the ABCS prefix.

Any ABC or ABC-Paramount product that is currently available from MCA carries on of the following prefixes: AA, AB or AY. All list at $7.98.

CORAL

(LP releases from 1949-50 to 1969):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues with an CRL prefix were counterparts to STEREO issues using the CRL7 prefix.

All Coral product currently available is included in the MCA catalog, and is identified with numbers in the CB-20000 series. It is not unusual to find these LPs still bearing the Vocalion logo and using the original artwork. All currently list for $3.98.

DECCA

(LP releases from the late forties to 1973):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues with an DL prefix were counterparts to STEREO issues using the DL7 prefix. Often a Decca stereo issue would carry the number as DL-75278 instead of DL7-5278, but in this guide the '7' always appears with the 'DL,' since it is actually part of the prefix and not the catalog number.

All Decca product currently available is included in the MCA catalog. See that section for pricing information.

DECCA FIRST PRESSING IDENTIFICATION:

Decca LPs prior to 1960 were mostly issued with a black label. The earliest releases had gold lettering followed in the early fifties by silver lettering. Occasionally, in the fifties, a Decca LP would turn up on a maroon label. In 1960 they changed to a label that was mostly black, but had a multi-color horizontal center band. In 1973 Decca was absorbed by MCA.

DOT

(LP releases from 1952 to 1974. See ABC-Paramount for ABC/Dot information.):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues in the DLP-3000 series were counterparts to STEREO issues in the DLP-25000 series. In late 1971, about the time the Dot numbers were approaching the 26000 mark, they dropped the DLP prefix and adopted a DOS prefix. Because of the uncertainty of whether an LP from this period is DLP or DOS, unless we had the actual LP to check, our educated guess may be incorrect in some cases. Any corrections along these lines would be appreciated.

All Dot and ABC/Dot product currently available is included in the MCA catalog, and is identified with numbers in the DOSD-2000 series. All list for $7.98.

DOT FIRST PRESSING IDENTIFICATION:

For the first few years, Dot LPs were on a maroon label. In the mid-fifties they switched to a black label with the Dot logo in script at the top. The label remained black, but the logo appeared in block style print when they slightly changed the label in the late sixties.

HAMILTON

(Budget LP releases from 1964 to 1966):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues in the HLP-100 series were counterparts to STEREO issues in the HLP-12000 series. Hamilton reissued Dot material.

KAPP

(LP releases from 1955 to 1973):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues in the KL-1000 series were counterparts to STEREO issues in the KS-3000 series.

All Kapp material currently available is included in the MCA catalog as mid-line product, mostly numbered in the MCA 500 series. All list for $3.98.

VOCALION

(Budget LP releases from 1960 to 1971):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues with an VL prefix were counterparts to STEREO issues using the VL7 prefix. Often a Vocalion stereo issue would carry the number as DL-73745 instead of DL7-3745, but in this guide the '7' always appears with the 'VL,' since it is actually part of the prefix and not the catalog number.

All Vocalion product currently available is included in the MCA catalog, and is identified with numbers in the VLT-3000 series. It is not unusual to find these LPs still bearing the Vocalion logo and using the original artwork. All list for $3.98. Vocalion issued material from the Decca family of labels.

OTHER MCA LABELS: Back Beat; Backstreet; Birdwing; Black Label; Blue Thumb; Duke; Dunhill; Infinity; Joe-Wes; Larc; South Coast; Sparrow.

MGM

(LP releases from the late forties to present):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues with a E prefix were counterparts to STEREO issues using an SE prefix.

CURRENT CATALOG & PRODUCT PRICING:

E & SE series issues now list at $8.98. From this series, there are 8 or 10 titles that have been selected for mid-line ($5.98) pricing

2-SES, MG1-5000 & MG2-5000 series LPs are one and two disc sets that list for $9.98.

MGM FIRST PRESSING IDENTIFICATION:

The early MGM labels were yellow with black art and lettering. Around 1959, they switched to a black label. In the late sixties the change was made to a blue and yellow label.

MGM SUBSIDIARY LABELS:

METRO

(Budget LP releases from the late fifties to the mid-sixties):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues with a M prefix were counterparts to STEREO issues using an MS prefix.

MERCURY

(LP releases from the early fifties to present):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues in the MG-20000 series were counterparts to STEREO issues in the SR-60000 series.

Mercury began issuing stereo LPs in 1958. They dropped the monaural issues in early 1968, continuing with the SR-60000 series until early 1972. At that time they started using the SRM prefix.

CURRENT CATALOG & PRODUCT PRICING:

ML-8000, MX-1-500 & PL-9000 are all mid-line releases, listing at $5.98.

SR-60000 & SR-61000 issues now carry an $8.98 list. There are several titles in this series that have been selected for $5.98 mid-line pricing.

SRM-1, SRM-2, SRM-3 & SRM-4 indicates a 1, 2, 3 or 4 record set.

SRM-1-600, SRM-1-700, SRM-1-1000, SRM-1-1100, SRM-1-3700, SRM-1-4000, SRM-1-5000 & SRM-1-8000 are all single LP sets listing for $8.98. There are dozens of titles in this series that have been selected for $5.98 mid-line pricing.

SRM-2-6500 series is a two LP set listing for $9.98.

SRM-2-800, SRM-2-7000, SRM-2-7500 & SRM-2-8600 are two LP sets listing at $13.98.

SRM-2-9200 series is a three LP set listing for $15.98.

422 is the current Mercury prefix. Both the 422-810300 & 422-815000 series list at $8.98.

MERCURY FIRST PRESSING IDENTIFICATION:
(Applicable to the contents of this book only)

Beginning in the mid-fifties and continuing for about 10 years Mercury used a black label. In the mid-sixties they switched to a red label. More recent issues have a multi-colored label that pictures a high-rise district of Chicago.

MERCURY SUBSIDIARY LABELS:

FONTANA

(LP releases from 1964 to 1968):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues in the MGF-20000 were counterparts to STEREO issues using the SRF-60000 series.

Fontana issued LPs in both mono and stereo. If any LPs were issued on Fontana after early 1968, they would have been available in stereo only. A couple of Fontana LPs, in the SRF-67500 & SRF-67600 series, are still in the Mercury catalog as $5.98 mid-line items.

SMASH

(LP releases from 1961 to late 1970):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues in the MGS-20000 were counterparts to STEREO issues using the SRS-60000 series.

Smash issued LPs in both mono and stereo until early 1968 when they dropped the mono releases. A couple of Smash LPs, in the SL-7000 & SRS-67000 series, are still in the Mercury catalog as $5.98 mid-line items.

WING

(Budget LP releases from the mid-fifties to the late sixties):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues in the MGW-12000 were counterparts to STEREO issues using the SRW-16000 series.

Wing issued LPs in both mono and stereo until early 1968 when they dropped the mono releases.

OTHER MERCURY LABELS: Delite; EmArcy; Enja; Lection; Limelight; Riva; Total Experience; 21; Zappa

MONITOR

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues with an MF prefix were counterparts to STEREO issues using the MS prefix.

MONUMENT

(LP releases from 1958-59 to present):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues in the M-4000 or M-8000 series were counterparts to STEREO issues using the SM-14000 or SM-18000 series.

CURRENT CATALOG & PRODUCT PRICING:

MC-6600 & MG-7600 series LPs list for $7.98.

MP-8600 series LPs list for $9.98.

PERFECT

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues in the PL-12000 were counterparts to STEREO issues using the PS-14000 series.

PHILIPS

(LP releases from 1961-62 to present):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues in the PHM-200000 series were counterparts to STEREO issues in the PHS-600000 series.

CURRENT CATALOG & PRODUCT PRICING:

All currently available Philips titles are of a classical nature and not within the scope of this book.

PHILIPS SUBSIDIARY LABELS:

CUMBERLAND

(Budget LP releases from 1965 to 1966):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues in the SRM-20000 series were counterparts to STEREO issues in the SRS-60000 series.

PICKWICK/HILLTOP

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues with an JM prefix were counterparts to STEREO issues using the JS prefix.

Since many Pickwick/Hilltop albums have Hilltop shown as the label and Pickwick shown on the cover, we have simply listed them all as Pickwick/Hilltop in this guide. Although there are very few releases known, there was another Hilltop label that was in no way connected with Pickwick.

POLYDOR

(U.S. LP releases from 1970-71 to present):

CURRENT CATALOG & PRODUCT PRICING:

CPN series issues list for $5.98. There are about two dozen other titles that have been dropped to mid-line pricing. They are all from the 4000, 5000 & 6000 series.

CPN2 indicates a two disc that lists for $9.98.

PD-1 series issues list for $9.98.

422-800000 series issues list for $8.98.

OTHER POLYDOR LABELS: RSO; Oyster; Spring.

RCA VICTOR

(LP releases from the late forties to present):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues with an LPM prefix were counterparts to STEREO issues using the LSP prefix. RCA's 'Electronically Reprocessed' stereo LPs, which first appeared in 1961-62, often have a lower case 'e' in parentheses following the catalog number. Example: LSP-1254(e).

RCA Victor began issuing stereo LPs in 1958. They dropped the monaural issues in mid-1968 (with numbers just above 4000). As with most labels discussed in this chapter, there are exceptions. Sporadic releases of older material will be presented in their original monaural form, just as certain LPs will contain both monaural and stereo tracks.

In 1973, RCA switched to a more complicated prefixing, normally using a four letter-four number catalog number. Most of the older product still being carried was assigned new prefixes. Example: LPM-2765 became AFL1- 2765. In 1975 RCA introduced their 'Pure Gold' series; original packaging of older tracks that listed at $5.98 and carried an ANL1 prefix. In 1980, many of the label's earlier releases were selected for the new 'Best Buy' (mid-line) series. These albums were given an AYL1 or AYM1 prefix and were $5.98 list.

CURRENT CATALOG & PRODUCT PRICING:

AAL1, AFL1, AFM1, AHL1, AQL1, APD1 (quadrophonic) & CPL1 series LPs are $8.98 list. In each of the catalog numbers given, the numeral following the three letters indicates the number of discs in the package. Example: CPL2 would indicate a two record set.

AGL1, ANL1, AYL1 & AYM1 series LPs are mid-line, listed at $5.98.

CPD2 indicates two quadrophonic discs, currently listed at $16.98.

CPM2 indicates two mono discs, currently listed at $13.98.

MFL1 & MHL1 series albums are RCA's Mini-LPs, which are 12-inch but contain from five to seven tracks. The Mini-LPs list for $5.98.

RCA VICTOR FIRST PRESSING IDENTIFICATION: (Applicable to the contents of this book only)

Until late 1968, RCA LPs were issued on a black label. Within this period there were slight variations in label design and lettering. Prior to late 1963, mono originals were on the black label with silver print and the words 'Long Play' at the bottom of the label. Stereo originals from this period have a black label with silver print and the words 'Living Stereo' at the bottom. First pressings of RCA's Electronically Reprocessed LPs are on the black label with silver print. Reissues of both true stereo and reprocessed stereo LPs, which appeared from 1964 through 1968, are on a black label but with white printing. Beginning in 1963, but continuing for only a year or two, monaural LPs were on the black label with the word 'Mono' at the bottom. Obviously an earlier mono release, say from the fifties, that was on this label would be a second pressing. Sometime, in late '64 or early '65, RCA's mono issues began appearing with a black label with the word 'Monaural' at the bottom. At this same time, stereo product carried the black label with the word 'Stereo' at the bottom. A copy of a 1961 stereo release, that originally read 'Living Stereo' at the bottom, with the word 'Stereo' at the bottom would be a second pressing. Beginning in late 1968 the switch was made to the orange label, which was in use until mid-1976. At that time, RCA returned to the black label design that is in use at of this writing. This newer black label is easily distinguished from the original black label of years ago. Most collectors refer to the original issues, prior to 1969, as those with the 'Dog On Top.' The current black label has the 'Dog On Side,' referring to the Victor mascot, 'Nipper' and his position on the label.

RCA VICTOR SUBSIDIARY LABELS:

CAMDEN

(Budget LP releases from the mid-fifties to 1975):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues with an CAL prefix were counterparts to STEREO issues using the CAS prefix. Camden's 'Electronically Reprocessed' stereo LPs often have a lower case 'e' in parentheses following the catalog number. Example: CAS-471(e).

In 1975 the Camden catalog was picked up by Pickwick, which brought about the repackaging of many Camden LPs shown as from Pickwick/Camden.

OTHER RCA VICTOR LABELS: DRG; Ensign; Erato; Flying Dutchman; Grunt; Gryphon; Millennium; Pablo; Salsoul; Solar.

ROULETTE

(LP releases from 1957 to the early seventies):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues with an R prefix were counterparts to STEREO issues using the SR prefix.

ROULETTE FIRST PRESSING IDENTIFICATION:

For their first two years, Roulette LPs used a white label. In late 1959 they switched to an orange label. In their later years they used a half orange/half red colored label.

ROULETTE SUBSIDIARY LABELS:

RAYNOTE

(LP releases from 1959 to the early sixties):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues with an RN prefix were counterparts to STEREO issues using the RS prefix.

SURREY

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues with an SS prefix were counterparts to STEREO issues using the SS prefix.

TIME

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues with a T-5200 prefix were counterparts to STEREO issues using an ST-2000 prefix.

UNITED ARTISTS

(LP releases from 1958 to present):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues in the UAL-3000 series were counterparts to STEREO issues in the UAS-6000 series.

CURRENT CATALOG & PRODUCT PRICING:

LM, LN, MLP & SN series LPs are $5.98 mid-line issues.

LKAO, LMAS, LO, LOO, LT, LTAO, LW & LWAK series LPs are $7.98 list.

LMBL, LWB & LXB indicates a two disc set, listing for $11.98.

LKBL indicates a two disc set, listing for $13.98.

LKCL indicates a three disc set, listing for $13.98.

LKDL indicates a four disc set, listing for $15.98.

UNITED ARTISTS FIRST PRESSING IDENTIFICATION:

For the first year, U.A. albums were on a red label. In late 1959 U.A. introduced their black label which they continued using until the late sixties or early seventies when the switch was made to a tan label.

UNITED ARTISTS SUBSIDIARY LABELS:

EMI AMERICA

(LP releases from 1978 to present):

DLP issues are mini-LPs, listed at $4.98.

SMAS, SO, SOO, ST, SW & SWAK series LPs are $8.98 list.

IMPERIAL

(LP releases from the mid-fifties to 1970):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues in the 9000 series were counterparts to STEREO issues in the 12000 series.

IMPERIAL FIRST PRESSING IDENTIFICATION:

Imperial LPs of the mid-fifties were with a maroon label. In the late fifties they changed to a black label. Some Imperial originals are currently available on Liberty; others on United Artists.

The coding on current product is the same as shown for United Artists.

LIBERTY

(LP releases from the mid-fifties to present):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues in the LRP-3000 series were counterparts to STEREO issues in the LST-7000 series.

LIBERTY FIRST PRESSING IDENTIFICATION:

Liberty LPs of the fifties were with a green label. In the early sixties they switched to a mostly black label, followed by a predominantly yellow label which they adopted around 1965. Since joining the U.A. group, the Liberty label has been gray.

The coding on current product is the same as shown for United Artists.

SUNSET

(Budget LP releases from the mid-sixties to the late sixties):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues in the SUM-1100 series were counterparts to STEREO issues in the SUS-5100 series.

VANGUARD

(LP releases from the late fifties to present):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues with a VRS prefix were counterparts to STEREO issues using a VSD7 prefix.

CURRENT CATALOG & PRODUCT PRICING:

VSD 1 to VSD-100 series LPs are two disc sets that list for $9.98.

SRV-100 to 300 & SRVS-100 to 300 series LPs are mid-line priced at $5.98.

VSD-700 series LPs list for $9.98.

VSD-2000, VRS-2000, VSD-6500, VSD-79000 & VRS-79000 series LPs list for $7.98.

WARNER BROS.

(LP releases from 1959 to present):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues with a W or B prefix were counterparts to STEREO issues using a WS or BS prefix.

CURRENT CATALOG & PRODUCT PRICING:

BP, BS, BSK, HS, PRK & WS series releases list for $6.98. Any of these LPs with a 2 or 3 in the prefix are two or three disc sets, listing for $11.98 and $16.98 respectively.

Warner Bros. has dozens of mid-line ($5.98) titles but they are not uniformly identified with any specific prefix or number series. They are simply listed individually as exceptions to the regular pricing and, of course, to numerous to list.

WARNER BROS. FIRST PRESSING IDENTIFICATION:

Until 1964, Warner LPs were on a gray label. That year they switched to a gold label, which remained in use until 1968 when a green label took its place. This particular label also carried the '7 Arts' logo. Around 1970 the '7 Arts' was dropped and about three years later the label was reworked again, this time depicting a lane with a row of trees on each side.

WRANGLER

(LP releases in the early sixties):

During the years of simultaneous releases, MONO issues with a WR prefix were counterparts to STEREO issues using a WS prefix.

Finally, an extra special note of gratitude to Jellyroll's Patricia Brown.

Threatened with tar and feathering proceedings, she fled Detroit three years ago, seeking refuge in Arizona. After being denied employment at every turn, Brown somehow fell into the Jellyroll fold at an opportune time; right when we were looking for someone foolish enough to work night and day, 7 days a week. In other words...someone as crazy as Osborne himself. Fact is, we couldn't have accomplished half as much without her.

Thanks Pat!

WE'D LIKE TO WELCOME YOU to the team of advisors for future Osborne guides!

Our series will include, but not be limited to, books on country & western, rock & roll, rhythm & blues, movie & TV soundtracks and original casts, non-rock 'pop' and other specialty guides (such as Elvis).

If you have a great deal of interest in a certain style of music or in a particular artist, or artists, then we'd like to invite your participation in the preparation and/or pricing of future guides.

Especially important is pricing input from record dealers. Whether you have a retail store or just run an occasional auction from your home, your knowledge of current values and trends is something we can never get too much of.

A note or postcard to Osborne Enterprises, indicating which areas you're interested in, will add you to the roster. Then we'll contact you when work begins on the appropriate guide.

EARLY COUNTRY STEREO

By Mike Callahan

When thinking about Country & Western music of 25-30 years ago, one normally thinks in terms of AM radio and monaural 45s and 78s. Country albums of the late 1950s rarely sold well enough to hit the US top 200 albums chart unless they had a major crossover pop hit on them, so not a lot of attention has been given to the fact that country and western music of the late 1950s was often available in true stereo. In fact, over the years there has been perhaps a greater percentage of country hits available in stereo than pop, rock, or rhythm and blues hits. Surprised? Once you hear, say, the stereo fiddles in Rusty & Doug's 'Louisiana Man,' you'll wonder why country stereo hasn't been given its due.

True stereo recordings on tape date back to the early 1950s, but most of the early stereo recordings were of classical music and soundtracks. Two-track stereo tape recorders were generally available to recording studios in the mid-1950s, and were often used to get a better balance between the lead vocalist and the rest of the record during mixing for mono singles. Many of these multi-track recordings from the mid-1950s were erased after the mono master was made, since stereo on disc was not a reality until 1957. In November of that year, the first workable stereo cartridge and disc was demonstrated at a high fidelity show, and stereo records as we know them were born. By mid-1958, most of the major record labels were beginning to issue stereo catalogs. The year 1959 also saw some record industry experimentation with stereo singles.

Where did country & western music fit into this early stereo technology? Actually, most of the country and western hits of the 1958-60 period were done for a relatively few number of labels, and many of these labels were 'major' labels whose recording studios were equipped with stereo recorders. Unlike the rock and roll records of the time, which came out on a wide variety of tiny independent labels, most of the established country stars were on such labels as Decca, RCA, Columbia and to a lesser extent Mercury, Capitol and MGM. Some of the smaller labels, such as Hickory, Sun and Starday also had considerable success with country records. One of the biggest boosts to country music in stereo, however, was the fact that studios such as RCA- Nashville had stereo equipment as early as July, 1958, and in addition to RCA recordings done there, many of the other labels rented studio time there and consequently recorded in stereo.

Let's take a label by label look at some of the hits that have turned up in stereo over the years:

DECCA: Decca was recording in stereo very early (at least as early as 1958), so many of the hits dating from 1958 or later are available in stereo. Decca has put out many Greatest Hits packages over the years, along with quite a few 'Various Artists' LPs where the songs are available in true stereo. For example, Bill Anderson's earliest hit (Jan. 1959), 'That's What It's Like To Be Lonesome' appears in true stereo on 'All Time Country And Western, Vol. VIII', a various artists' package (Decca DL7-4881), while most of his other hits are included on his two 'Greatest Hits' collections, which are all true stereo. Most of Patsy Cline's hits are available on the all-true-stereo LPs 'Patsy Cline's Greatest Hits' (Decca DL-74854/MCA-12) or 'The Patsy Cline Story' (Decca DXSB-7176/MCA2-4038). These LPs, however, illustrate an interesting facet of the Decca stereo philosophy: re-recordings. 'Walking After Midnight', originally released in early 1957, was re-recorded in stereo for the album 'The Patsy Cline Showcase' (Decca DL-74202), and all subsequent stereo releases have the re-recorded version. On 'Webb Pierce's Greatest Hits' (Decca DL-74999), we're treated (??) to stereo re-cuts of most of his early hit catalog, including 'Wonderings' ('52), 'There Stands The Glass' ('53), 'Slowly' ('54), 'In The Jailhouse Now' ('55), 'I Don't Care' ('55), 'Missing You' ('57), and 'Don't Do It Darlin' ('57). The album redeems itself, however, with four originals in true stereo including the great 1959 hit 'I Ain't Never'. Later Webb Pierce hits are relatively easy to find in stereo on his albums.

The 'Kitty Wells' Greatest Hits' album (Decca DL7-5001) and the 'Ernest Tubb's Greatest Hits' album (Decca DL7-5006) are also mixtures of true stereo re-recordings of the early hits (e.g., Wells' 'It Wasn't God Who Made Honky Tonk Angels' and Tubb's 'Walking The Floor Over You') and true stereo originals of the later hits. Oddly enough, Loretta Lynn's Greatest Hits' (Decca DL-75000) has true stereo cuts as early as 'Success' ('62), but the 1965 hit 'Blue Kentucky Girl' is rechanneled stereo (i.e., a mono recording with some added reverb and frequency filtering to give a weak illusion of stereo).

In general, with Decca, on both the artist's albums and on various artists' collections, the songs from late 1958 or later are likely to be true stereo originals; anything earlier than that is likely to be either rechanneled or a stereo re-cut.

RCA VICTOR: RCA's available stereo, like Decca's, begins as early as 1958, but unlike Decca, RCA was prone to leave well enough alone and put the original versions of songs on albums rather than re-recording them in stereo. On the down side, they often would subject these early tunes to RCA's particularly obnoxious brand of electronic rechanneling, with the resulting tunes often sounding like the singer was at the bottom of a well. The hits after about 1958 by such artists as Bobby Bare, The Browns, Floyd Cramer, Skeeter Davis, Don Gibson, George Hamilton IV, Hank Locklin, John D. Loudermilk, Roger Miller and Jim Reeves appear regularly on RCA albums in true stereo. Elvis Presley's first stereo release was 'Stuck On You'/'Fame And Fortune' in 1960, with subsequent hits generally being recorded in stereo (see 'Presleyana', Second Edition, for the complete history of Elvis in stereo). An exception to RCA's avoiding re-recordings was Eddy Arnold, who by 1960 had re-cut many of his top hits in stereo on such albums as 'Eddy Arnold Sings Them Again' (RCA LSP-2185). Because of these re-recordings, it is today difficult to find the original versions of such hits as 'Bouquet of Roses' ('48), 'Anytime' ('48), 'I Really Don't Want To Know' ('54), or 'Cattle Call' ('56) on RCA albums. One Eddy's earliest true stereo hits was 'Tennessee Stud' from 1959. Much of the RCA country material, of course, was recorded in their Nashville studio.

COLUMBIA: Like the other major labels, most of Columbia's catalog from 1959 or later is true stereo. Columbia, however, has the most extensive reissue series of any label through their Columbia Special Products releases. This means that the early stereo recordings from Columbia are much more likely to be accessible to the average collector through TV offers and cutout bins. Original albums by their artists (Johnny Cash, Jimmy Dean, Lefty Frizzell, Freddie Hart, Johnny Horton, David Houston, Stonewall Jackson, Claude King, Ray Price, Marty Robbins, etc.) were usually in true stereo after 1958 although occasional hits, such as Marty Robbins' 'Ruby Ann' ('62), have never appeared in stereo. Columbia's excellent and plentiful various artists' collections also make it possible to find early stereo gems such as Lefty Frizzell's 'Long Black Veil' and Freddie Hart's 'The Wall' (both from '59) in stereo ('The Big Hits', Columbia CS-8161, later reissued as 'Golden Sounds of Country Music', Columbia LE-10590).

HICKORY: Hickory's country artists (e.g., Roy Acuff, Ernest Ashworth, Margie Bowes, Stoney Cooper and Wilma Lee and Rusty & Doug) were known to be recording in stereo at least as early as 1960. For example, Rusty & Doug's 1961 hits 'Louisiana Man' and 'Diggy Liggy Lo' were both issued in true stereo on the album 'Rusty & Doug' (Hickory HR-4506, with an import reissue in 1979 on Bear Family BFX-15036). Most of the later country-pop hits (Sue Thompson, Kris Jensen, etc.) on Hickory have proved to be in stereo. The problem with Hickory stereo is that the albums were not apparently a major focus for the label and evidently few copies were sold and only a small percentage of those were stereo. Hickory's early stereo albums are not the easiest items to find these days.

CAPITOL: Capitol's ventures into country stereo seem to be more hit-and-miss than the other labels. While they started issuing stereo records about the same time (1958-59), all the hits from the 1958-60 period have not shown up in stereo. For example, Ferlin Husky's 'My Reason For Living' (2/59) is available in stereo but the later single, 'Dragging The River', (5/59) is not. Buck Owens' hits are available in stereo starting with 'Above And Beyond' in 1960, but his two 1959 hits, 'Second Fiddle' and 'Under Your Spell Again' are not stereo. Wanda Jackson's two earliest country hits, 'Right Or Wrong' and 'In The Middle Of A Heartache', are in true stereo on 'The Best of Wanda Jackson' but her earlier rock hit, 'Let's Have A Party', is not. Capitol also issued an album by Ned Miller in the mid-1960s that was all true stereo ('The Best of Ned Miller', Capitol ST-2414), but the 'hits' are re-recordings of his Fabor Label hits such as 'From A Jack To A King' and 'Invisible Tears'. Nevertheless, Capitol did a credible job on these re-cuts, as they sound quite close to the originals. Capitol albums by such 1960s stars as Glen Campbell and Roy Clark were stereo (but Clark's minor instrumental hit 'Malaguena' is mono, since the guitar is the only sound on the record).

MERCURY: Mercury's 1959 hits, such as George Jones' 'White Lightning' and 'Who Shot Sam' were recorded in true stereo and are usually stereo on the Mercury albums. Much of Mercury's recording was done at Universal Studios in Chicago, one of the most advanced studios in the country in the 1950s, so most of the material Mercury recorded (as opposed to purchased masters) turned out to be stereo. This includes such country artists as Leroy Van Dyke ('Walk On By', 'If A Woman Answers', etc.), Rex Allen ('Don't Go Near The Indians'), Claude Gray ('I'll Just Have A Cup Of Coffee') and Dave Dudley. Many of the Mercury hits may also be found in stereo on Mercury's many various artists' collections.

SUN: Most of the best-known recordings on the Sun label, by Elvis Presley, Carl Perkins, Jerry Lee Lewis, and Johnny Cash, were recorded in a little studio at 706 Union in Memphis. As far as can be deduced by listening to records, that studio never had stereo equipment, so these early classics will never be heard in stereo. In the early 1960s, Sun moved to another studio in Memphis where they did have multi-track capabilities. Certain of the later Jerry Lee Lewis hits on Sun (e.g., 'Invitation To Your Party', 'Love On Broadway', 'Sweet Little Sixteen') appear in stereo on 'Original Golden Hits, Vol. III' (Sun 128), but for the most part, the Sun label is a stereo washout.

STARDAY-KING: Another of the small country-oriented labels, Starday had an uneven stereo career. Most of their albums came out in mono only, but even in the late '60s the 'stereo' albums were just as likely to have rechanneled cuts on them as not. King issued an enormous number of albums in the 1960s, many of them true stereo. Gusto Records now controls the masters to both the Starday and King catalogs, but the reissues are very unreliable for stereo content. Best advice in looking for stereo in these two labels is to try to get the original LPs and hope for the best.

MGM: Another record label with an uneven stereo history. Most of the early Conway Twitty hits were stereo, but the Marvin Rainwater and Sheb Wooley hits of the same vintage are not. Even Sheb's 1962 hit 'That's My Pa' has not appeared in stereo. To top it off, MGM took the early Hank Williams records and added a bass and some other instrumentation to 'modernize' them into stereo, and nowadays it's hard to tell what you're getting until you buy it.

In general, these are some of the rules of thumb in buying country music for stereo. I hope they will be useful as you use this guide.

For your convenience, we have listened to some of the albums listed in this edition, and offer the following guideline to stereo content:

(S): Indicates that the album was issued in stereo, but actual true stereo content is not yet known. May also be used when it's a safe assumption that the album was issued in stereo, most likely based on year of issue. There are exceptions, of course, as monaural LPs are still being issued on occasion.

(ST): The album is all true stereo.

(SP): The album is true stereo in part. Contains at least one track in true stereo but a portion of the LP is either rechanneled or monaural.

(SE): Indicates the LP is all electronically rechanneled.

(M): Monaural LP. A stereo release is not known.

(Q): Quadrophonic issue.

STEREO RECORDS

Hear music the way it was meant to be heard - in TRUE STEREO! "Both Sides Now" deals exclusively in cutouts/reissues/imports with hard-to-find true stereo country & western and rock & roll. We guarantee the stereo content. If we say a cut is true stereo, it's true stereo or your money back! Our prices are moderate, with prices as low as 99-cents plus postage & insurance. Never a handling charge. (Typical LPs are in the $2 - $10 range.) Our stock varies from list to list but in our recent lists we've had hard-to-find stereo hits by The Browns, Ernest Ashworth, George Hamilton IV & other country artists, as well as a wide selection of early rock & roll hits in true stereo. Recent hit songs include: "It Keeps Right On A-Hurtin'" (Johnny Tillotson), "Louisiana Man" (Rusty & Doug), 'He'll Have To Go" (Jim Reeves), etc.

THE AUTHOR AND 'COUNTRY MUSIC'

This is unquestionably Jerry Osborne's finest book to date, and one of which he is understandably proud.

Jerry's research for this project began in the summer of 1981, shuttling around Nashville with Brehon Herlihy, visiting with virtually every record company in Music City as well as with many of the performers.

Work continued until August, 1984, when it was decided it was time to wrap up the research and get on with the production of this guide. About a week prior to our original press date, Bob Ensign, owner of Bob's Record Rack in Ozark, Missouri, called and invited Jerry to come to Ozark and personally sift through his 10,000, or so, country and bluegrass inventory. Realizing the opportunity to greatly improve the accuracy and comprehensiveness of this volume with this trip, Jerry headed for the Ozarks. Also on this trip, stops were made in Texas, Louisiana, Memphis and again in Nashville. Each and every collection inspected provided some valuable data, all of which was incorporated into the file in September and October.

One of Jerry's problems is his reluctance to turn loose of a manuscript so that the presses can roll. There's always this addition or that correction that would make the finished product a tad better.

Osborne's background in country music is extensive. After nearly a decade in broadcasting, he was chosen to program music for Buck Owens' two radio stations in Phoenix, in 1969. For the next six years, Jerry continued broadcasting, based in Phoenix but occasionally syndicated nationally. He retired from the broadcasting industry in 1976, choosing to devote full time to his newly begun (1975) series of publications serving the record collecting hobby.

Now, nearly two dozen books later, Jerry has finally given the hobby a beautiful guide for country music albums.

Well...actually we had to take it from him. He had 'just a couple more changes' he still wanted to make.

Roy Acuff is perhaps the name country music fans are quickest to associate with The Grand Ole Opry. This recognition is well deserved, after all, Roy has appeared on the Opry for nearly 50 years. He joined the show in 1938, when the Opry was being broadcast live from the WSM studios. In 1942, he and Fred Rose formed Acuff-Rose Publishing, the first music publishing company exclusively serving country & western performers. In 1962 Roy Acuff was honored as the first living member elected to the Country Music Hall Of Fame. One year earlier, his friend and partner, the late Fred Rose, was honored as the Hall's first member.

(The issuance of this LP was legally challenged upon its release, resulting in a decision that Plantation Records had the rights to only three of the eight tracks contained therein. Production ceased on this LP at once, thereby creating an instant collectors' item. The aforementioned three tracks have since been issued on a Shelby Singleton Company various artists compilation album.)

Cousins Randy Owen, Jeff Cook & Teddy Gentry began singing together in 1969, in Ft. Payne, Alabama. Their first public performances were at a nearby tourist park, Canyonland. Adopting their home state's name as their own, the trio continued playing music on weekends, often opening for and backing name country acts while still working daytime jobs. In March, 1973, the boys began playing six nights a week in an all-or-nothing plunge into the music business. Four years later they were signed by Nashville's GRT Records and promptly had their first hit. They then switched to the Dallas-based MDJ label, scoring with two more hits. The group, now with drummer Mark Herndon, joined RCA Victor in April, 1980. They have since taken their place alongside The Statler Brothers and Oak Ridge Boys as one of country music's supergroups. In October, 1984, the Country Music Association bestowed their Entertainer Of The Year award on Alabama, the first time any act has been a three time recipient of the CMA's top honor. This brings their career total, at press time, to nine CMA awards, more than anyone in history!

Born November 1, 1937 in Columbia, South Carolina, Bill Anderson has long been regarded as one of country music's premier songwriters. He started writing in 1957, penning the blockbuster "City Lights." The song was brought to the attention of Ray Price, whose release of it the following summer became one of the biggest hits of the year. It reached number one and remained on the charts for over eight months. The tune was also a regional pop hit by Ivory Joe Hunter, in '59, & Debbie Reynolds in '60. Since then, Bill has written between 400 & 500 songs, many becoming hits of his own. Today you can find him hosting "Fandango" and "Backstage At The Grand Ole Opry," on The Nashville Network.

About the time daughter Lynn's career was really taking off, mother Liz was slowing down, devoting more time to Lynn, home and hubby, Casey Anderson. During the second half of the sixties, Liz wrote and recorded some of that period's finest music, much of it with a novelty flair ("Mama Spank," "That's A No-No," "Husband Hunting," etc.). Liz's " (My Friends Are Gonna Be) Strangers " was Merle Haggard's first top 10 hit, and instrumental in getting him signed by Capitol. Liz was born on March 13, 1930 in Roseau, Minnesota.

Lynn Anderson, born September 26, 1947 in Grand Forks, North Dakota, is the daughter of Liz and Casey Anderson. As a teenager, she gained national attention as a regular singer on the Lawrence Welk TV show. Her first recording contract was with Chart Records in 1966. Living in Sacramento instead of Nashville at the time may have been a drawback in some respects, but Lynn was also given a tremendous boost by powerful country music Sacramento radio station, KRAK. They promoted her heavily in northern California. After a label switch to Columbia, Lynn decided to rework the Joe South composition, "Rose Garden," that had been a regional California hit the previous year by Dobie Gray. The record became a country and pop smash; one of the biggest hits of both 1970 and 1971! Following "Rose Garden," Lynn turned out four more number one hits and many others that were quite successful. Lynn was previously married to record producer Glenn Sutton. In 1979 she married Harold "Spook" Stream, leaving Nashville to set up housekeeping in Lake Charles, Louisiana. In 1982 the couple separated and Lynn and her children moved back to Nashville. She was signed by the fledgling Permian label but stayed only long enough to turn out one LP. In the summer of 1984 MCA decided to add Lynn to its already impressive country talent roster.

According to RCA, Richard Edward Arnold has sold over 75 million records, more than any other American artist except Elvis Presley, the all-time champ, and Bing Crosby. He was elected to the Country Music Hall Of Fame in 1966. Eddy was born in 1918 on a farm near Henderson, Tennessee. At 18, he made his radio debut on WTJS in Jackson. He came to Nashville and the Opry in the early forties as a member of Pee Wee King's Golden West Cowboys. RCA signed him in 1944, keeping "The Tennessee Plowboy" on Victor until 1972, when he jumped to MGM for three years before rejoining RCA. Eddy was perhaps the first real crossover country artist as well as being the first country performer to host his own TV show, "Eddy Arnold Time," which debuted in 1952. Eddy Arnold has stood the hard test of time.

Chester B. Atkins was born June 20, 1924 in the mountainous hills of Luttrell, Tennessee, northeast of Knoxville, where state highways 61 and 131 meet. Raised on the music of Jimmie Rodgers, Chet at six years of age imitated the Blue Yodeler while playing on a ukulele strung with wire from a discarded screen door. A few years later he traded a pistol for his first real guitar. After graduation, Chet joined The Dixieland Swingers who were broadcasting on WNOX in Knoxville. "They had great programs where you had to use your imagination to paint a picture. Back when I started, every radio station had local bands. It was such good training for musicians and entertainers," reminisces Chet. He joined the Opry in 1950 and signed with RCA, eventually to oversee their Nashville offices as division Vice President, in 1968. He retired from that position 10 years later, having discovered and signed more major talent than it's possible to list. He was elected to the Country Music Hall Of Fame in 1973. Having come full circle, Chet now tells us, "I think of myself first as a guitarist. I want to be remembered as a guitarist."

Razy Bailey grew up on the small farms of Alabama, New Mexico & Texas. He was christened "Rasie," after his father's first name, Erastus, but it sounded like it should be spelled R-a-z-z-y, thus the current spelling. Razy made his first recordings at age 10, for B&K Records, a very small Alabama label. Then in 1966, he recorded a tune he had written, "9,999,999 Tears," for Atlanta's Peach Records. Neither of these efforts were rewarded with any success whatsoever. He even started his own label, Erastus Records, named after his father, but could not generate any hits. The struggling began to pay off in 1976, though, when Dickey Lee's version of "9,999,999 Tears" became a top five hit. The thrill of Razy's success has been shared by his septuagenarian father, who has co-written some of Razy's songs.

The man many call "The unabashed king of honky-tonk" was born February 12, 1944 in Meridian, Mississippi, to a guitar-picking father and piano-playing mother. His grandfather is said to have worked the railroads with Jimmie Rodgers. After graduation, Moe labored by day as a sheet metal worker and by night as a singer playing the Texas honky-tonk circuit, mostly around San Antonio. He soon became a regular on "Country Corner," a local TV show. Moe came to Nashville in 1972, and the following year put out "I Just Started Hatin' Cheatin' Songs Today" on the tiny Footprint label. The song was picked up by GRC, the Atlanta label on which Moe's first five singles & three albums appeared. Moving to Columbia in 1975, not only has Bandy maintained an impressive string of hits, but has collaborated with Joe Stampley with great success. Enthusiastic about the type of songs he does, Moe says "I really think my songs are about life. There's cheatin', drinkin', & divorcin' going on everywhere and that's what hard-core country music is all about."

Singer-songwriter Robert Bare was born on April 7, 1935 in Ironton, Ohio, a river town about 150 miles east of Cincinnati. About two weeks before being drafted into the U.S. Army, in 1958, Bobby Bare wrote & recorded a novelty tune about Elvis Presley's Army life, titled "All American Boy." The song was put out on Fraternity Records, a Cincinnati label. Strangely, the artist shown on the record label was Bill Parsons, another Fraternity artist, and not Bare. Bobby was in basic training at Fort Knox, Kentucky, when he first heard the song on the radio. He recalls, "When I heard it the first time, I woke up this guy bunking next to me and said 'bey, that's me!' He just said 'Sbeesit...go on back to sleep!' Follow-up releases on Fraternity were correctly shown as by Bobby Bare. After his discharge, he roomed with another as-of-yet-to-be-discovered supertalent, Willie Nelson. Before kicking off an endless run of hit songs, Bobby did one movie, "A Distant Trumpet," released in 1964. More recently, he has been hosting "Bobby Bare & Friends" for The Nashville Network.

Jeanne Black is one of the very few singers to have an answer song become a chart-topper on both the pop & and country music charts. This young lady, who also performed as one half of the Jeanne & Janie duet, turned out a smooth answer to Jim Reeves' "He'll Have To Go," appropriately dubbed "He'll Have To Stay."

Even though Johnny Bond had some very big hits, quite a few of which were novelties like "Hot Rod Lincoln" & "Ten Little Bottles," many remember him best as one of the stars of Gene Autry's Melody Ranch gang. He was on the popular radio show for nearly 15 years. He was also a one time member of Jimmy Wakely's band. Johnny died of heart failure in 1978.

Owen Bradley was instrumental in the development of Nashville's "Music Row." He is credited with the operation of that city's first recording studio. As Decca's top producer, he was responsible for the sessions of nearly every major talent on their label in the fifties. Owen was elected to the Country Music Hall Of Fame in 1974. Owen is the brother of Harold Bradley and the father of Jerry Bradley.

Ed Bruce first hit the pop charts in 1963 with "See The Big Man Cry," but a follow-up hit was not to be. Four years later, with RCA, Ed began scoring on the country charts...as he is still doing. You might also remember Bruce for his co-starring role with James Garner in the TV series "Bret Maverick."

Memphian Dorsey Burnette, along with his brother Johnny Burnette & Paul Burlison, began singing in Memphis as The Rock & Roll Trio, then as The Johnny Burnette Trio. Their early recordings were categorized as rockabilly but favored the new rock & roll more than country. Johnny remained a pop star until his death, August 1, 1964, in a boating accident. Dorsey always maintained a country quality to his recordings though several, most notably "Tall Oak Tree" (one of the first ecology songs), were pop hits. Dorsey died of heart failure in 1979.

Originating in 1968 as The Flying Burrito Brothers, this group's personnel has seemingly always been in a state of transition. Among those who have come and gone we find: Chris Hillman, who left to pursue a solo career and later to join McQuinn & Clark; Rick Roberts, who found greater fortune with the group Firefall; Bernie Leadon, who was one of the original Eagles, among the top selling record acts of the seventies; Chris Ethridge, a bass player who joined Willie Nelson's band a few years ago and Gram Parsons, the group's primary vocalist and writer, who passed away on September 19, 1973. By the time the group shortened their name to Burrito Brothers, steel guitarist "Sneaky" Pete Kleinow was the only remaining original member. He was joined in 1974 by Gib Gilbeau, the Cajun favorite, and in 1979 by John Beland.

JAMES BURTON .....A&M (S) SP-4293 3 15 71

James Burton, who first played on Dale Hawkins' recordings, was the lead guitarist heard on all of Ricky Nelson's hits of the fifties and early sixties. For the next three of four years James was one of the most sought after session men, used on recordings by Merle Haggard, Waylon Jennings and others. In 1969, when Elvis Presley was putting together the band for his upcoming (August, 1969) Las Vegas opening, James was hired as Elvis' lead guitarist as well as to assist in assembling the remainder of the band. James recorded and toured with Presley until Elvis' death in 1977, after which he joined John Denver's group. In 1975, he took time away from the busy Elvis schedule to help Emmylou Harris put together her Hot Band, of which he was an original member. James Burton is once again doing session work. He is considered my many, particularly other musicians, to be the top country/rock guitarist available. His credentials certainly support that opinion.

Fans of the older (fifties & early sixties) Ray Price sound usually love Johnny Bush. He has been remarkable at maintaining a style, particularly with his Stop recordings, that many country music lovers hated to see give way to more progressive arrangements and middle-of-the-road vocalizing. In the fifties, Johnny was a drummer in a small Texas band that also sported a young singer named Willie Nelson. When the combo disbanded, Johnny's next employer was the man that he later sounded so much like; Ray Price.

CAMPBELL, THE .....Nashville (S) NLP-2064 2 10 68
Archie Campbell, born in Bulls Gap, Tennessee November 7, 1914, has long been one of the primary gag writers for "Hee-Haw," which, along with the old Lawrence Welk program, is one of the most successful syndicated TV shows ever. Besides his writing chores Archie regularly performs comedy routines on the weekly show. Though not often displayed, Campbell also possesses a fine singing voice. Archie Campbell is currently hosting the Nashville Network cable television guest interview show, "Yesteryear In Nashville."

One of the famous Carlisle Brothers, Bill is often referred to as "Jumpin' Bill," "Wild Bill," & "Bounding Bill." These nicknames were derived because of Bill's propensity to become airborne during his performances, as the nearby photo clearly demonstrates. Bill was born December 19, 1908 in Wakefield, Kentucky.

Johnny Cash first reveled in rockabilly at 706 Union St., Memphis, Tennessee, the home of Sun Records. John had just been released from military service, where he had started thinking seriously about a career in the music business. So there was Cash, signed by the most important record label, though never the largest, of the era. Memphis talent manager and dee jay, Bob Neal, began using Cash on some of Elvis' concert tours that were criss-crossing the south. Like Presley, Charlie Rich, Roy

CASH - CASS

Orbison, Jerry Lee Lewis, Carl Perkins and the others in the Sun stable, a major label soon beckoned (Columbia) and Johnny quickly became one of country's most successful cross-over artists. In 1969, he became the first person to ever win five CMA awards in one year. The year before, Johnny made June Carter his wife. Johnny has appeared in the films "The Pride Of Jesse Hallam," "A Gunfight" & "Gospel Road," as well as guested on TV's "Colombo" & "Little House On The Prairie." In 1980 Johnny Cash was named to the Country Music Hall Of Fame.

SOMEWHERE IN THE STARS .....Columbia (S) FC-37570 1 8 82

1955 was a memorable year for Johnny Cash. He signed his first recording contract with Sun Records, made the national charts with his very first release...and, on May 24th, he and his first wife, Carleen, announced the birth of baby Rosanne. Johnny & Carleen divorced when Rosanne was 11, with Rosanne and her mother moving to Ventura, California. She did keep in close contact with her famous father and immediately after graduation joined his traveling show, first in the wardrobe department and then singing back-up with her half-sister Rosey. Her first solo LP was recorded in Germany and released only in Europe, for Ariola Records. Unhappy with the results, Rosanne returned to the States and joined Rodney Crowell's band, The Cherry Bombs. In 1979 she married Rodney as well as signed with Columbia. Crowell has since produced many of her sessions.

The saga of David Allen Coe begins September 6, 1939 in Akron, Ohio. In 1948 at age nine, his father and stepmother shipped him off to an institution for "unmanageable children." For the next 20 years, Coe recalls, "I wasn't on the streets for more than 60 days at a time that I can remember." At 15, he was confined at the Starr Commonwealth School For Boys. In 1959, David entered Ohio's adult prison system. During his incarceration, Coe claims to have killed a man who made sexual advances toward him in a shower. Though one of the more celebrated and controversial stories of Coe's past, its authenticity has been debated. Around 1967, David was finally released from the Ohio State Correctional Facility, and he headed for Nashville where he first recorded for Shelby Singleton's Plantation label. An album of these early tracks was issued in 1977, three years after David signed with Columbia and experienced his first taste of success with the "Mysterious Rhinestone Cowboy" LP. David Allen Coe is probably the most tattooed performer in country music history. He often boasts, "I got 365 tatoos on me, one for every day of the year!"

In 1959, "Crash" Craddock (There was no usage of "Billy") was one Columbia's most promising teen rock stars. With Elvis serving the U.S. Army in Germany, all of the major labels were scrambling to fill the void, and this good looking North Carolina youngster seemed a natural. Sadly, his first Columbia release, "Don't Destroy Me," turned out to be his only hit of the rock era. Some believe that on another label Craddock would have been right there with Ricky Nelson & Frankie Avalon. After all, Columbia had no rock stars in the fifties, preferring instead to bank on easy listening (Mathis, Bennett, Mitchell, etc.) and country (Robbins, Horton, Price) stars. Billy's rock background is evident in his many seventies hits as well as his stage performances. He is acknowledged as a major contributor to the success country/rock has enjoyed in the past 15 years. Billy hails from Greensboro, North Carolina, born on June 16, 1939.

Regardless of who was recording in RCA's legendary Studio "B" in the sixties, including but certainly not limited to: Elvis Presley, Jim Reeves, Hank Locklin & Skeeter Davis, the odds were excellent that the piano keyboard was in the capable hands of Floyd Cramer. His distinctive style was as popular with record buyers as with the record makers, as evidenced by the lengthy list of albums to his credit. Floyd was born in Shreveport, Louisiana on October 27, 1933.

Born January 9, 1951 in Paintsville, Kentucky, and christened Brenda Gail Webb, the younger sister of Loretta Lynn says "I grew up knowing I was going to be a singer. I don't know if I ever thought I was going to be a star, though I guess when you're a kid you always dream." Reportedly, Brenda picked up the nickname Crystal from (or from her fondness for) the fast-food hamburger chain of the same name. After graduation, Crystal signed with Decca and her first release, "I Cried (The Blue Right Out Of My Eyes)," written by Loretta Lynn, became a major hit in 1970. Unfortunately there wasn't a follow-up hit for Crystal. In fact, it was three years before she was able to repeat the chart success of her first single. Since then, however, the string of chart-topping singles and albums has been non-stop. Always a jukebox favorite, "Don't It Make My Brown Eyes Blue" was honored as 1978's most played record of the year and Crystal Gayle was selected as the most played female artist of 1979 on America's jukes. Besides Loretta, Crystal's other sister, Peggy Sue, and brother, Jay Lee Webb, joined the country music ranks. No doubt influenced by Loretta's affiliation with the label, all four singing members of the Webb family first recorded for Decca Records.

Vernon Dalhart is credited as having the first country music million-selling record, "The Wreck Of Old '97" / "The Prisoner's Song," a 1924 issue. Perhaps it was the fact that his stage name was picked up from the names of two Texas cities that motivated Conway Twitty to follow a similar format. Actually Vernon Dalhart was just one of dozens of names that Slaughter recorded as. He was inducted into the Country Music Hall Of Fame in 1981.

CBS Records' Executive Producer par excellence, Billy Sherrill, says of Lacy J. Dalton: "Record producers probably hear more aspiring singers in a week than most people hear in a lifetime. But we rarely hear a voice so unique it rises above the rest. Lacy possesses that exciting quality that makes her special." She was born October 13, 1948 in Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania, and while growing up in the area's small farming communities, young Jill Byrem was glued to the radio, listening both to rock and country. She enrolled at Brigham Young University, in Utah, with intentions of becoming an artist, but later dropped out of college to join a California rock band. Commenting on that period (the seventies) in her life, Lacy wryly says, "It's no coincidence that people often remark that I remind them of a country Janis Joplin. I loved her, but I don't want to be thought of as a Joplin imitator, although she did have an influence on me." In 1978, she made an album, "Jill Croston," a tape of which found its way to Billy Sherrill's office. The result was one of the quickest signings ever for Columbia. Jill Byrem-Croston became Lacy J. Dalton...and "Crazy Blue Eyes," her debut single, became a top twenty hit.

* All I ever wanted to do, for as long as I can remember, is play music,* recalls Charlie Daniels. The son of a lumberman, Charlie grew up in small North Carolina towns, listening almost exclusively to bluegrass. But, at 15, he was bitten by the rock & roll bug. At 20, the guitar playing Daniels was entertaining in small honky tonks across the South, eventually ending up in Texas with a band he called The Jaguars. It was there he met record producer Bob Johnson, who got Charlie some session work in Nashville. A break came when he was tapped to play on Bob Dylan's *Nashville Skyline* (1969) LP. Quickly, the word of his session expertise (guitar & fiddle) spread, and he was used by such diverse stars as Ringo Starr, Al Kooper and Flatt & Scruggs. In 1971, he assembled Tom Crain, Joe DiGregorio, Charlie Hayward, Jim Marshall & Fred Edwards and the Charlie Daniels Band was born.

Originally, Dave's girl duo, Sugar, consisted of Vicki Hackeman & Jackie Frantz. In 1975 the three friends were singing back-up vocals for Charley Pride. Their first LP, in mid-1976, was a smashing success. On their second & third LPs, Jackie was replaced by Sue Powell, with Vicki Hackeman shown as Vicki Baker. Their next two albums, "Stay With Me/Golden Tears" and "New York Wine & Tennessee Wine," featured Sue Powell and Melissa Dean as Sugar. In 1981, Sue was signed as a solo artist by RCA and was replaced by Jamie Kaye. The group was now recording for Elektra and was billed as Dave Rowland & Sugar. Also, Melissa Dean was shown as Melissa Prewitt. The following year, Dave went solo with his cleverly titled LP "Sugar Free," but has recently reunited with Sugar.

Fittingly for such a gifted songwriter, Mac Davis has told his own story best in some of his songs. "Rock & Roll (I Gave You The Best Years Of My Life)" & "Hooked On Music" highlight his early years. Mac says "Nothing really happened for me until I started getting some of my songs ("Memories," "Don't Cry Daddy," "In The Ghetto," etc.) recorded by Elvis." Mac also included his son, Scotty, ("Watchin' Scotty Grow") & wife, Sarah, in his lengthy repertoire. Sarah later married Glen Campbell. Mac has also begun acting and recently co-starred in "The Sting II." The Lubbock born Davis (January 21, 1942) even chronicled his departure from West Texas in "Lubbock, Texas In My Rear View Mirror," a 1980 hit.

Born Mary Frances Penick, December 30, 1931 on a farm in Dry Ridge, Kentucky, "Skeeter" teamed with Betty Davis in 1953 to become known as The Davis Sisters. Sadly, Betty was killed that same year in an auto accident. Skeeter's solo career soared in the sixties, at the height of which she married Nashville D.J. Ralph Emery. They later divorced. Ralph Emery is well known as the host of The Nashville Network's cable television variety show, "Nashville Now."

Jimmy Dickens has introduced country music to the talents of Buddy Emmons, Thomas Carlisle & Grady Martin. All were members of Jimmy's band in their early years. Perhaps, his greatest discovery was the young man from Glendale, Arizona that Jimmy brought to Nashville and The Grand Ole Opry; Marty Robbins. Also noteworthy is Jimmy's 1964 world tour...that really was! He completely circled the globe and was the first country star to do so.

Johnny Duncan was born October 5, 1938 in Dublin, Texas. As a boy his idol was Chet Atkins. Many years later, a boy's dream came true when Duncan's composition of "Summer Sunday" was recorded by Atkins. Two of Johnny's childhood pickin' partners were his cousins, Jimmy Seals & Danny Seals. Both found great futures in the music business; Jimmy with Dash Crofts as Seals & Crofts and Danny as England Dan who teamed with John Ford Coley. The three youngsters, along with Johnny's mother and uncle, formed a band that played small Texas dances. In 1959, after spending some time studying at Texas Christian University, Duncan moved to Clovis, New Mexico to work with Norman Petty, a man best known for his involvement in the short career of Buddy Holly. Petty recorded Duncan as a pop artist, not country, as Johnny would have liked. After a dee jay stint in the Southwest, he moved to Nashville, working in radio there. One morning in 1966, a Columbia executive spotted Duncan singing on an early morning WSM-TV show hosted by Ralph Emery, and Johnny was signed immediately.

SINGER .....Capitol (S) ST-741 2 12 71
 Stoney Edwards was the second black singer, following Charley Pride, to have a string of hits in the country field of music. The same year (1971) that Stoney began hitting the charts, Otis Williams released his first country music LP, but was not successful in his transition from rhythm & blues. The following year, O.B. McClinton became the third black country star, followed by Ruby Falls in 1975. It should be pointed out that Nashville did have a black country performer before Charley Pride. He was DeFord Bailey, who recorded for Victor in the 1920s as well as made appearances on country shows around the South. Having no LPs however, Bailey's recordings are not listed in this guide.

Born in Aiken, South Carolina and raised in Queens, New York, Leon Everett first began playing music during his off-duty hours as young Navy recruit serving on an aircraft carrier. He and some other Southern boys would provide some bluegrass entertainment for the troops, unofficially of course. He later won a Navy sponsored talent contest. After completing his tour of duty, Leon formed a honky-tonk circuit band, playing clubs along the South Carolina-Georgia border. "After I'd finish my club work at night in Carolina, I'd get some sleep, then drive to Nashville for the day, hanging around publishing companies and labels to meet people," Leon says. "Then I leave about two o'clock each afternoon and make it back to South Carolina in time to do the show that night." This rather exaggerated form of moonlighting continued until he landed a mail-room job at True records. This enabled Leon to move to Music City, hoping to make records rather than mail them. In 1977, when Elvis Presley died, True had Leon cut a tribute song, "Goodbye King Of Rock & Roll," not only one of the first but one of the best of the hundreds of Elvis tributes that quickly flooded the market. It was also one of the first Elvis tributes selected for inclusion on the picture disc, "To Elvis: Love Still Burning," a compilation of the better tribute songs to the fallen star. Leon then briefly recorded for Orlando Records, before joining RCA's country roster.

Carl Smith - Brenda Lee - Red Foley

Red Foley was inducted into the Country Music Hall Of Fame in 1967. Two of Red's daughters achieved some musical notoriety; Shirley Lee, who married Pat Boone and joined him on a few tunes, and Betty who had one hit single, "Old Moon," in mid-1959.

Janie Fricke has gone from being one of the nation's most in-demand jingle singers, to one of the most in-demand back-up singers, to one of the most in-demand country music singers. Now, Janie is somehow managing to find time for all of these demands. On commercial jingles, her voice was heard on spots for 7-Up, Pizza Hut, Coors, Orange Crush, Red Lobster, United Airlines and many, many more. Her back-up vocal artistry has been a part of recordings made by Elvis Presley, Charley Pride, Crystal Gayle, Tanya Tucker, Loretta Lynn, Charlie Rich, Eddie Rabbitt, Johnny Duncan & others. She has been credited as a back-up vocalist on more than 5,000 recordings! Her rise from the obscurity of jingle and back-up singing started in 1976 when she began getting recognition as the partner of Johnny Duncan on several of his hits. Striking out as a solo artist, Janie's first two albums produced five smash single hits. In 1978, she was chosen as country music's Top Female Vocalist. The country girl from the farmlands of Indiana, near South Whitney, has shown that she can handle any type of song. Anything from selling pizza and beer...to a sleek and winsome love song.

(Half-speed master)

Larry Gatlin was born in 1948 in Seminole, Texas, the son of an oil rig driller. Larry, along with younger brothers Steve and Rudy, first performed on a weekly television show in Abilene. They were so well received that they continued on the show for two years. After graduation, Larry left his family and attended the University Of Houston on a football scholarship. After getting his degree, Larry auditioned for the Imperials gospel group, who had become widely known as Elvis Presley's back-up group during the late sixties. He was accepted and did some touring with them. While playing in Las Vegas, Larry met Dottie West, who became the first major artist to record some of Larry's compositions. "If it weren't for Dottie, I'd probably be a lawyer in Houston right now," laughs Gatlin. In the years that followed, Larry's songs would be recorded by the likes of Johnny Mathis, Tom Jones, Roy Orbison, Johnny Cash, Kris Kristofferson, Ray Price, Elvis (Ray and Elvis both had hits with Gatlin's "Help Me"), Tammy Wynette, The Oak Ridge Boys & others. Brother Steve, born in 1951, was a Texas Tech graduate who'd been teaching elementary school in Lubbock when he decided to join Rudy and their sister, LaDonna, in Nashville. The trio was hired to sing back-up for Tammy Wynette, but they were also joining Larry on his sessions. They finally decided to reunite the family act, the result being their first LP, "Larry Gatlin (With Family & Friends)." Rudy Gatlin, one year younger than Steve, recalls one of the gang's earlier disappointments that occurred in 1975. He & LaDonna, along with her husband, Tim, traveled to Nashville for an audition being held by Charley Pride for a back-up trio. They arrived from Texas one day late, only to find that the position had been filled by a trio that would later become quite popular on their own; Dave & Sugar. Fortunately, they did get hired by Tammy Wynette.

Mickey Gilley grew up in Ferriday, Louisiana with piano-pounding cousins Jerry Lee Lewis & Reverend Jimmy Swaggart. He began by singing rock & roll and rockabilly in the fifties, sounding much like Jerry Lee. Like Lewis, Gilley switched to country music in the late sixties but wasn't really successful until 1974, when he released "Roomfull Of Roses" on Astro, his own label. Though it was intended as the "B" side, Houston dee jays gave it lots of airplay. The tune was picked up by Playboy Records, a newcomer to Nashville at the time, and it became a number one hit. Subsequent Gilley releases were equally as successful on the charts. Recalling one early experience that motivated him, Mickey says "Jerry Lee & I had played piano together when we were kids growing up in Louisiana, so naturally I wanted to see him in concert. This was right about the time when "Crazy Arms," his first hit, was getting played a lot. After the show, I drove him to the airport and on the way he pulled out this big roll of one hundred dollar bills. It made me decide right then what business I wanted to be in." His fame, as well as that of his Texas nightclub, Gilley's, skyrocketed as a result of the exposure gained in the 1980 film "Urban Cowboy."

A songwriter's songwriter, Tom T. Hall started his career as a dee jay in Roanoke, Virginia, after completing an eight-year tour of Germany with the Army. He quit his job and moved to Nashville in 1964, spending the first few years writing songs that became hits for others. Mercury decided to try Tom as a vocalist, signing him in 1967. His first smash was the clever "Ballad Of Forty Dollars," in 1968. Also that year, Tom's now-classic "Harper Valley P.T.A." swept both the pop and country charts when recorded by Jeannie C. Riley. The six-million seller has since been the basis for a TV series and a movie, with Barbara Eden starring in both. On one occasion, Tom's compositions occupied as many as six positions on the top country hits chart. These days, the "Storyteller" and his wife Dixie, can be found at their Fox Hollow home, either preparing delicacies in the Fox Hollow kitchen, or showing their prize pure-bred hounds.

GUS HARDIN .....RCA Victor (S) MHL1-8603 1 6 83
(Mini-LP)

Carolyn Ann Hardin, who somewhere along the way picked up the nickname "Gus," is enjoying her audiences more now than ever before...now that she can see them. You see, Hardin recently underwent a new form of eye surgery called intraocular lens transplants which restored the precious gift of sight to Gus, who for a dozen years was classified as legally blind.

Bobby Helms, born August 15, 1933 in Bloomington, Indiana, has the distinction of having a hit record, his 1957 "Fraulein," remain on the national charts for a full year! An unduplicated feat for any single release in any field of music. Only three pop/rock and eight country singles have surpassed the 40 week hurdle. At 52 weeks, Bobby's "Fraulein" is the only entry to reach the 50 week milestone.

Johnny Horton, born in Tyler, Texas, was one of those rare individuals whose vocal abilities seemed to know no limits. Like another fellow Texan, Buddy Holly, Johnny was killed just as his star was finally rising. We'll never know how truly popular he would have been. Collectors, it seems, prefer his rockabilly tunes. Tracks like "I'm Coming' Home," "Honky Tonk Hardwood Floor" & others on the "Honky Tonk Man" LP are always in demand by rockabilly lovers. Johnny Horton's widow, Billy Jean Horton, had her only hit, "Ocean Of Tears," approximately one year after Johnny was killed in an automobile accident while driving to Nashville from Kentucky. Ironically, Billy Jean was the wife of Hank Williams at the time of his death in an automobile, although not involved in a collision.

TO THE SILENT MAJORITY .....Nugget (S) NRLP-105 2 10

Harlan Howard, one of country music's all time great songwriters, was once married to Jan Howard. Still cranking out hits, his "I Don't Know A Thing About Love," vocalized by Conway Twitty, became one of 1984's most popular hits. Harlan's favorite, and his all-time top money maker, is still "Heartaches By The Number," a number one pop hit by Guy Mitchell and number one country smash by Ray Price, both in 1959. Harlan was born in Harlan County, Kentucky on September 8, 1929.

ISAACS, Bud

EP
 CRYIN' STEEL GUITAR .....RCA Victor EPA-590 3 15 55
 Bud Isaacs, a Grand Ole Opry regular for years, was originally the steel player in

ISAACS - JACKSON

Eddie Hill's band in 1951. But it was January, 1954 when Isaacs' novel steel guitar playing became the rage of hillbilly music enthusiasts. Born in Bedford, Indiana, March 26, 1928, Bud developed a style made possible by attaching two foot pedals to his steel. Through some adept footwork, he was able to vary the tension on individual strings. He could consequently change the pitch of single strings so as to change individual chords. This technique caused a sensation at the time inasmuch as it had been considered impossible to change anything less than a whole chord at one time. "Slowly," the Webb Pierce smash of early '54, is recognized as the first hit featuring a pedal steel, played by Isaacs of course.

Wanda Jackson hails from Maud, Oklahoma, born on October 20, 1937. In 1954, she came to the attention of Hank Thompson, who is generally credited with discovering her. He had her singing with his band, The Brazos Valley Boys, on those occasions when the teenager was able to break away from her high school studies. Billy Gray, himself a former Brazos Valley Boy, was recording for Decca at the time (1955) and he was instrumental in getting Wanda signed with them as a country artist. After graduation, Wanda toured extensively, often included on the same bill with Sun's, soon-to-be RCA's, fireball, Elvis Presley. In 1956, Wanda signed with Capitol and, unlike Decca where she was recorded strictly country, was able to rock & roll on many of her tracks. Jackson gained a great deal of national exposure in the sixties with her own syndicated TV show, "Music Village." In recent years, Wanda has devoted her talents to performing and recording gospel music, often accompanied by her husband, Wendell Goodman. In addition to Roy Clark, who played guitar on "There's A Party Going On" sessions, some of Wanda's Capitol sessions featured the guitar artistry of Joe Maphis, Merle Travis & Buck Owens.

Waylon Jennings, born June 15, 1939 in Littlefield, Texas, near Lubbock, entered the music business as a member of Buddy Holly's Crickets, briefly touring with the band as a bass player in 1959. As most everyone knows, Waylon sacrificed his seat on that fatal flight, February 3, 1959, to The Big Bopper. Prior to Holly's untimely death, he had played guitar on and financed Waylon's first recording session. Two tracks were completed, "Jole Blon," the cajun standard, and "When Sin Stops."
Brunswick, the same label that had The Crickets, issued the tunes on a single in the spring of 1959, but it was not successful. Waylon headed for Phoenix in the early sixties, landing a regular spot on the stage at JD's. Waylon was spotted at JD's by RCA's Chet Atkins, who persuaded Jennings to move to Nashville. In 1976 the LP
"Wanted! The Outlaws," spotlighting Waylon and his wife, Jessi Colter, Tompall Glaser & Willie Nelson, became the first album of Nashville origin to be certified platinum. The LP later gained double platinum status. Jennings' "I've Always Been Crazy" LP, a Sept. 1978 release, became the first LP in history to debut at number one on the country music album charts.

George Glenn Jones was born September 12, 1931 in Saratoga, Texas. The family of Clara & George Washington Jones included: young George, Herman and Helen, plus two sets of twin girls, Joyce & Loyce and Doris & Ruth. The Jones family moved to Beaumont when George was 11. He served for two years in the U.S. Marine Corps and upon discharge, returned to Beaumont and worked as a housepainter. Recalling his early interests in music, George says, "There was never anything but music for me as far back as I can remember. I didn't think about making money at it until I got out of the Marines though. I did an afternoon live radio show on KRIC in Beaumont, with a team called Eddie & Pearl. I lived with them in a trailer and got 17.50 a week plus room & board. For that, I was doing the radio show as well as singing in taverns in the area." It's not surprising that George's first recording was "There Ain't No Money In This Deal." The tune was recorded in 1952 at the home of a friend in Beaumont and was issued on Starday Records. This release, and the five that followed, were not successful. But it was a different story with lucky number seven, a 1955 release titled "Why Baby, Why." The result was a top five hit that remained on the national charts for over three months. In 1956, Jones joined the Louisiana Hayride in February and then the Grand Ole Opry in August. Although his 1968 marriage to singer Tammy Wynette was the most publicized, George was first wed in 1950, to Dorothy, and again in 1953, to Shirley. He has four children; Susan (born 1951), Jeffrey (1955), Bryan (1958) and Tamela Georgette (1970). Both George and Tammy have since remarried, but she still thinks highly of Jones, saying "He's the greatest voice in country music and, even though we couldn't live together, he'll always be my favorite singer." On so many of his recordings that we chose not to individually denote them, George Jones is backed by The Jordanaires. One final note: the Music Disc label may also be shown on the actual records as Musico.

It's hard to remember Grandpa Jones when he didn't look like a Grandpa. Even in his youth, Jones' old man outfit and makeup made him look much older. He was born October, 20, 1913, in Niagra, Kentucky. His real-life grandfather played the fiddle for local dances, often joined by his mother who was adept on the old-time accordian. Louis made his professional debut at 18 over radio WJW, Akron, Ohio. One of his early thrills was winning $50.00 in gold for a singing & banjo performance at Akron's Keith Palace in 1929. For over a dozen years, Grandpa Jones has been a regular performer on television's "Hee-Haw." He has also been a Grand Ole Opry star for many years. Jones was inducted into the Country Music Hall Of Fame in 1978.

The Jordanaire's give credit to Elvis Presley for the proliferation of back-up singers on recordings. His repeated use of their group created an unprecedented demand in the industry for vocal group backing. Although not often named prominently with the singer in terms of artist credit, Elvis being an exception, The Jordanaire's have provided more back-up vocal work than any group in Nashville; perhaps in the world.

Royce Kendall teamed with his brother, Floyce, when he was eight years old, playing on an Arkansas radio show. The "Royce & Floyce" act gave way to a spot with the Merchant Marine & Army Bands, a few years later. Royce then decided to leave the music business, settling down with his wife, Melba, and young daughter Jeannie, in St. Louis. Royce was working as a barber there, but when Jeannie started blossoming as a musical talent, the father-daughter team started playing some gigs around town. Brought to the attention of Pete Drake and Stop Records, The Kendalls' next stop was a recording studio in Nashville. They had several hits in the early seventies, but it was the 1977 smash, "Heaven's Just A Sin Away," that turned The Kendalls into a Grammy Award winning duo. Oddly enough, the "Country Single Of The Year" was originally intended as the "B" side of the release and "Live & Let Live" as the plus side. Audience and dee jay response to "Heaven's Just A Sin Away" was overwhelming however, and the record took off at the speed of light. George Jones' fondness for the tune prompted him to recently list it as one of his top ten country favorites of all time.

Jerry Kennedy has been a featured session guitarist for many of Nashville's country stars, although his lead guitar was never so widely heard as in the early sixties on many of Elvis Presley's recordings. Prior to working with Elvis, Jerry was one-half of the Tom & Jerry duo that recorded several albums of guitar music for Mercury.

Doug Kershaw was born on a houseboat in Louisiana on January 24, 1936, and in true cajun tradition, spoke only French for his first eight years. At that age Doug began learning English and also began entertaining with his mother at a rowdy Lake Arthur, Louisiana club called The Bucket Of Blood. Shortly thereafter, Doug teamed with his brother Rusty and the Rusty & Doug duo came up with a catchy tune that told the Kershaw family life story, "Louisiana Man." The record was a very big hit in 1961, when first released, but has proven to be far more influential over the years than reflected by its original sales figures. The same could be said for "Diggy Liggy Lo," their follow-up release. The brothers played on the Wheeling, West Virginia Jamboree and the Grand Ole Opry before Doug went solo. In 1968 Johnny Cash put Doug on one of his television specials, giving "The Ragin' Cajun" valuable exposure to a nationwide audience. Doug has also appeared in three films: "Zachariah," "Medicine Ball Caravan" & "Days Of Heaven."

Frank "Pee Wee" Kuczynski was born on February 18, 1914 and raised in Wisconsin. During his high school days he organized and led a four-piece band which attracted enough attention to get them a slot on a Racine radio station. Shortly thereafter, Gene Autry was passing through town and needed a new accordionist.

Gene liked Pee Wee and hired him for his Western band. After a tour with Autry, King joined The Log Cabin Boys in Louisville, Kentucky. He liked the South so much that when the band was scheduled to leave on an Eastern tour, he decided to remain behind. It was then he organized The Golden West Cowboys. One of his sidemen, Redd Stewart, was often the vocalist heard on King's recordings as well as a fine songwriter who joined King on many a composition. Pee Wee King was inducted into the Country Music Hall Of Fame in 1974.

SONGS OF BOBBY LEE .....Little Richie (S) LP-1012 2 10 76

(With Lloyd Green, Charlie McCoy, Pig Robbins, Buddy Spicher, Bob Moore, Buddy Harmon, Kelso Hersten, Billy Stanford & The Nashville Edition.)

Bobby Lee hails from Liberty, Kansas, where he later worked as a dee jay. Bobby moved to Denver a few years later, where he formed his first group, The Leemen. In 1965 he moved to Phoenix, signing with Ramco Records. His next stop was Pappy Daily's Musicor label, where his 1969 release of "Proud To Be A Man" received regional airplay and sales success. While in Nashville, Bobby worked the Grand Ole Opry and several local TV shows.

Born Brenda Mae Tarpley, December 11, 1944 in Atlanta, Georgia, young Brenda was discovered by Red Foley in 1955. Just a few months later, in early 1956, Red put Brenda on his Ozark Jubilee show as a regular. Oddly enough, Brenda's first recordings for Decca billed the 11 year old star as "9 Year Old" Little Brenda Lee. Despite the discrepancy, she was still one of very few singers to achieve international star status at such a young age. Few performers have displayed the versatility of Brenda Lee. Regarded for a decade as one of the two top female singers of the rock era (along with Connie Francis), Brenda Lee has dabbled in pop, dixieland, jazz, big band, old time, contemporary, rockabilly and country music styles. Like several of her peers from the fifties & sixties, Brenda has found much success with the country music audiences, most of whom grew up on Brenda, Elvis, Jerry Lee, Conway & the others from that genre. The following personnel have contributed to many of Brenda Lee's sessions: Grady Martin, Bob Moore, The Anita Kerr Singers, Bud Isaacs, Boots Randolph, Floyd Cramer, Buddy Harmon, Bobby Wood & Buddy Emmons.

Dickie Lee zoomed to the top of the pop/rock charts in 1962 with his story in song of "Patches." And although he did have other types of songs that were successful, it was his story (often with a tragic ending) songs that Dickie was best known for. Besides "Patches" there was "Laurie," "The Girl From Peyton Place," "Big Brother" & others. Dickie switched labels in 1971, going to RCA Victor, and found a continuing success in the country music field.

LP

FEEDIN' THE FIRE .....	Columbia (S) FC-37431	1 8 82
------------------------	-----------------------	--------

Zella Lehr, or just plain Zella since she shortened it to first name only, joined her family's circus and vaudeville act when she was only 10. They were appropriately called The Lehr Family and were very popular in Europe, where vaudeville survived for years after TV had pretty much killed it in the U.S.

fashion. One cut, "Am I To Be The One," was recorded with Charlie Rich doing background vocal work. Because neither Ellis nor Rich are credited on this LP, some lesser trained ears thought that Elvis Presley was the mysterious voice on this LP. Ezra Cline was the leader of The Lonesome Pine Fiddlers. * Cousin * Ezra, as his radio friends called him, was the group's bass fiddle player as well as show emcee. He also doubled as the comedian for their performances. The fiddle virtuoso of the group was Curly Ray Cline. In 1938, he and Ezra started playing professionally, with Curly quickly establishing himself as one of the country's best on fiddle.

Loretta Lynn originally wrote and recorded "Coal Miner's Daughter" in 1970. An autobiography of the same title followed as did the highly acclaimed film in 1980. Loretta achieved even greater success and wider acceptance as a result of the movie, in which Sissy Spacek was marvelous portraying Loretta as well as doing her own singing. Loretta has a brother and two sisters who have also recorded; Peggy Sue, Jay Lee Webb and the very popular Crystal Gayle. One can't help but wonder why there were no LPs featuring Loretta & Crystal Gayle, for example, or any recorded combination of singing Webb family members. Especially since all four were recording for the same label, Decca, in 1970. Loretta was the first female singer to be honored with the CMA Entertainer Of The Year award, in 1972.

Barbara Mandrell was born on Christmas Day, 1948. She, along with sisters Louise & Irlan, hosted one of country music's most successful TV variety programs, "The Barbara Mandrell Show." Barbara began her singing career at 11, singing with her family. It was while playing with the family group that she met Ken Dudney, a teenage drummer with another group. They became sweethearts and were married after they graduated from high school. He later became her business manager. Barbara began her solo career singing in Nashville clubs and in 1972 was signed to the Grand Ole Opry. This lovely lady became the first country talent ever to win the CMA Entertainer Of The Year award. She claimed the top honor in 1980 & 1981.

Ronnie McDowell was one of ten children, born and raised in Portland, Tennessee, just a few miles south of the Kentucky border. August 16, 1977 was, according to McDowell, the saddest day in his life. It was on that afternoon the world learned of the death of Elvis Presley. Within hours Ronnie McDowell & Lee Morgan penned "The King Is Gone," soon to become the most heard Elvis tribute song in the country (out of literally hundreds released). The following year, Ronnie was selected to provide the soundtrack vocals featured in Dick Clark's made-for-television movie, "Elvis." Since then, Ronnie has made the transition from performing just Elvis' hits to becoming a bona fide country music star. One piece of trivia, or irony, is that Ronnie McDowell performed before an SRO crowd of shipmates aboard the U.S.S. Hancock, in 1968; nine years before his first recordings. He was only 17 at the time. On April 3, 1956 a 21 year old singer also performed to an SRO crowd on the very same U.S.S. Hancock, a feature of the Milton Berle TV show. Of course, it was Elvis Presley.

SAM & KIRK MC GEE & THE CROOK

BROTHERS .....	Starday (S) SLP-182	3	15	62
----------------	---------------------	---	----	----

Sam & Kirk McGee, along with Fiddlin' Arthur Smith, were originally known as The Dixieliners. After Sam's death in 1975, Kirk joined the Grand Ole Opry's Fruit Jar Drinkers String Band. The McGees also played with Uncle Dave Macon and with Bill Monroe in the early years. The Crook Brothers have been on the Opry since 1925, ranking as the show's longest running continuous act. Originally it was Herman and Matthew Crook teaming up, but in 1930 Matthew was replaced by Lewis Crook. Sounds rather uneventful on the surface, however Lewis was not related to the Crook brothers in any way! He just happened to also be named Crook.

Born blind in Robbinsville, North Carolina on January 16, 1946, Ronnie first discovered his aptitude for music at five years of age. At that time he was enrolled in the State School For The Blind, at Raleigh, where he quickly learned the violin, piano and guitar. He now thrills his fans during concert appearances by playing most keyboard, stringed, percussion & woodwind instruments. While still in school, Ronnie undertook a serious study of classical music, but "even though I love composers like Mozart & Bach, the influence of Elvis, Jerry Lee & Lefty Frizzell caused me to return to my country roots," says Milsap. After graduation from high school, Ronnie studied pre-law at Young-Harris Junior College in Atlanta, planning to later attend Emory University where he had been granted a full scholarship. Music won out over law, however, and he started working as a sideman with J.J. Cale. By 1966, Ronnie had formed his own band and was playing the college circuit. Ronnie moved to Memphis in late 1968, often recording at American Sound Studios. At this same time, Elvis Presley was doing a lot of recording at American Sound, and he used Milsap's vocal accompaniment on his million-selling "Don't Cry Daddy." It was during these years that Ronnie was recording strictly as a pop/rock artist, but without success. Oddly, he'd later achieve great crossover acceptance by the pop market, but only after first turning his talents toward country music. This was his next move. Ronnie & his wife, Joyce, relocated in Nashville and in April, 1973, he signed with RCA. In the fall of 1977, he virtually swept the CMA awards by winning Entertainer Of The Year, Male Vocalist Of The Year and Album Of The Year citations.

(With Lester MacFarland) Patsy Montana, born Ruby Blevins, was the first female country singer to have a million-selling hit. It was "I Want To Be A Cowboy's Sweetheart," first released in 1935. Patsy, one of the best of the early country yodelers, appeared in a few western films with stars like Gene Autry, in the thirties & forties. Now, at 70 years of age, Patsy is still touring and performing. She and her husband, Paul Rose, have two daughters, Judy & Beverly, who once sang with mom, forming one of the first mother-daughter acts in country music. Judy Rose, is currently on tour with her own band.

Danny Davis' first became known to country music followers in 1970, with the introduction of The Nashville Brass, but big band fans may recall him from his days with Freddy Martin & Sammy Kaye. He's been around the music business all of his life, as a singer as well as a horn player, but his greatest fame came with the formation of The Nashville Brass. Their success inspired Buck Owens' Bakersfield operation to organize, appropriately enough, The Bakersfield Brass.

Willie Hugh Nelson was born April 30, 1933 in the tiny Texas town of Abbott (population 375), a farming community just a few miles north of Waco. Willie and his older sister Bobbie, who has played piano in his' road band for many years, were raised by their grandparents. Willie was less than six months old when their mother left home one day seeking work and simply didn't return. Their father, Ira, ran a Texas pool hall until his death in 1978. Willie was 10 when he made his professional debut in a Bohemian polka band. He earned eight dollars per night, which seemed like a lot of money at the time. Three years later, he put together his first country band. At 18, Willie married Martha Mathews, a 16-year old Cherokee waitress. In the next few years Willie Nelson started coming into his own as a songwriter. He wrote "Night Life" in 1959, a song that became a classic. Although best known by Ray Price (country hit) & Rusty Draper (pop hit), the tune has been recorded by more than 70 artists and sold over 30 million copies combined. Naive at the time, Willie sold the rights to "Night Life" for a mere $150. He used the money to buy a second hand Buick. Willie and Martha divorced and he used the Buick to drive to Nashville. There he met and married Shirlee Collie, who sang duets with Willie on several early sixties Liberty releases. Their marriage, like his first, was a stormy one but nevertheless continued for a decade. Hank Cochran heard Nelson singing in Tootsie's Orchid Lounge and was impressed enough to sign him with Pamper Music Publishing Co. One of Pamper's co-owners was Ray Price, who hired Willie as a bass player in his road band. With regular royalty checks coming in, Willie was able to assemble his own band, The Record Men, performing widely in the Southwest and eventually signing as regulars on Ernest Tubbs's syndicated TV show. Willie's has been a roller coaster career wherein he has written over 850 songs, recorded over two dozen albums and even appeared in several films. "One thing that has helped me is that I've had so many ups and downs in the last 30 years that I've learned to live with both. I can't get to excited over either though. The successes are great but they aren't going to last forever. And I've come back from a lot of failures already," reflects Willie.

In the mid-fifties, the founding members of this group were known as The Oak Ridge Quartet, a gospel group. In 1963, the first release showing the group as The Oak Ridge Boys appeared. The following year, William Golden joined the group, the senior member of the current foursome. Duane Allen was added in 1966. In 1972, bass singer Rich Sterban left J.D. Sumner & The Stamps Quartet (who were a fixture on Elvis' recordings and concerts) climbed aboard. It was also around this time that Joe Bonsall rounded out the quartet. During the summer of 1977, with "Y'all Come Back Saloon," they zoomed to the top of the country charts with their first secular hit. Since then they've rarely been out of the top 10.

Jimmy Ellis had several single issues and one LP, "Ellis Sings Elvis," prior to his 1978 rise to stardom as the masked Orion. The combination of Ellis' excellent vocal abilities and Shelby Singleton's relentless promotions proved successful for the Elvis-like Jimmy Ellis, who, strangely enough, once recorded "I'm Not Trying To Be Like Elvis."

OWEN, Jim

- LP
HANK .....Sun (S) 146 1 6 82
 Jim Owen wrote and starred in "Hank," a one-hour PBS TV special based on the life of Hank Williams. This effort was rewarded with an emmy for best show of the year on public television. This led to Jim being tabbed for the lead role in "Hank Williams: The Man & His Music," filmed in 1980. Owen was nominated for another emmy for that performance. Jim has also written and produced a 10-hour Hank Williams radio special which airs on stations across the country on New Year's Day. Recently, Jim has been recreating Hank Williams music as part of "Legends In Concert" at the Imperial Palace in Las Vegas. This Jim Owen should not be confused with the Jim Owen who was a member of Hank Williams' Drifting Cowboys.

Dolly Parton has won every award imaginable in country music, including the distinction of receiving the first platinum LP award (for one million units sold) ever presented to a female country star for "Here You Come Again." Dolly's career has broadened to include starring roles in three films, with more to come. Not bad for the Smoky Mountain girl who wrote her first song at the age of five, made her first record, "Puppy Love," at 11 and appeared on the Grand Ole Opry at 13, singing George Jones' "You Gotta Be My Baby." When Dolly first came to Nashville, in addition to doing demo tapes, one of her more offbeat jobs required her to pose for a photograph seemingly wearing nothing but a towel. The picture was used on a billboard and subsequently inspired the song "Girl On The Billboard," which became a number one hit for Del Reeves in 1965. Dolly, the fourth of twelve children, has two sisters and a brother who have recorded, Stella, Freida & Randy. Randy, now a bass player in Dolly's band, was a front man and bassist for Jeannie Shepard when he was only 19. He toured with Jeannie for a year and a half before joining Dolly.

All the classic elements are there in the John Austin Paycheck story. Born Donald Lytle in Greenfield, Ohio, He dropped out of high school, rode freights and hitch hiked across the country. He's been in and out of trouble with the law and dealt with everything from detectives to dope; from booze to bankruptcy. He has been recording since 1959, spending some time as a member of George Jones' Jones Boys band and also with Ray Price's back-up group, The Cherokee Cowboys. Reportedly, Johnny Paycheck got his stage name from a Chicago prize fighter who was decked by Joe Louis in one of his "Bum Of The Month" bouts. His trademark song, "Take This Job And Shove It," recently spawned a Hollywood film of the same title.

Tennessee born (April 9, 1932) & raised, Carl Perkins has earned a permanent place in the record books for phonograph record sales. His rockabilly classic "Blue Suede Shoes" was the first tune to appear on all three major music charts, pop-rock, rhythm & blues and country. The first total crossover record! Not only did it appear on all of the charts, but was listed among the three best selling singles, at one time or another, on each survey. Fact is, very few country records ever appear on the rhythm & blues (or black music) charts, much less challenge the field's best releases for the top spot. Despite all its achievements for Carl, "Blue Suede Shoes" is more closely associated with Elvis Presley, who regularly performed the song in concerts and on TV appearances. This doesn't present any problems for Perkins though, since he is the writer of the song and the recipient of many royalty checks from Elvis' sales on it as well as his own.

Ray Noble Price was born January 12, 1926 on a farm near Perryville, Texas. Although he attended North Texas Agricultural College, near Dallas, intending to be a veterinarian, his early success as a singer-musician made him realize his calling was music rather than mammals. His first recordings were for Bullet Records, but were not popular outside Texas. The promotion and handling of this new talent would require the expertise of a much larger label, though, and in 1950 Ray was signed by Columbia. Shortly thereafter he was to meet Hank Williams, who is credited with bringing him to Nashville. Hank also wrote "Weary Blues," Ray's first popular Columbia single. When Hank died, in 1953, his Drifting Cowboys band joined Ray on tours and recordings. In 1954, Ray formed his famous Cherokee Cowboys, one of the finest back-up bands in country music. Keeping pace with the times and trends, a 20-piece orchestra was incorporated into the act in the mid-sixties. Ray's heart may have been in the country but his music was moving uptown. "Danny Boy" was the transition LP in this regard. As fiddles gave way to violins, Ray had the good fortune to vocalize Kris Kristofferson's "For The Good Times," in 1970. Any questions surrounding Ray's acceptance by the pop market as well as his ability to retain his loyal country following were answered affirmatively by this multi-million seller. Ray Price is one of a dwindling group of country singers that were at the top of their field in the early fifties that still can turn out hit after hit in the eighties. In fact, there hasn't been a year that he failed to appear on the charts. Through the years his incredible voice has given us a amazing assortment of tunes and styles. The difference between any of his early hillbilly recordings and his brassy 1969 rendering of "On The South Side Of Chicago" ("Sweetheart Of The Year" LP) is truly unbelievable.

Two dozen years have passed since Charley Pride sang with Red Foley and Red Sovine on the stage of the Helena, Montana Civic Center. The story is almost legend. Charley was playing semi-pro baseball by day and singing country music by night, when he caught the ears of Foley & Sovine with his version of Hank Williams' "Lovesick Blues." They urged Pride to audition in Nashville, which he agreed to do. The resultant demo tape was brought to a meeting of RCA's top A&R people by Chet Atkins in 1965. Charley was signed that year and his debut single release, "The Snakes Crawl At Night," became the first of many, many hits. Cash Box magazine named Charley the Top Male Vocalist Of The Decade, for the seventies. "Even though I appreciate the fame and adoration, I still remember that I used to pick cotton. I have the same hands, feet & heart as everyone else. I'm just blessed with a good singing voice," says Charley. Perhaps this attitude results from his humble beginnings. He was one of 11 children born to the family in Sledge, Mississippi, about 60 miles southwest of Memphis. Until he was 17 he earned his dollars picking cotton ($3.00 per 100LBS), but then decided to make a bid at his first love; baseball.

He played in the Negro American League, with Detroit, and with the Memphis Red Sox in the fifties. After taking time out for military service, Charley returned to the game and eventually made it to the Major League for a brief period in 1961. He was given an opportunity to pitch and to play outfield for Gene Autry's Los Angeles Angels, now the California Angels. Although a baseball career never materialized, Charley's lifelong love of country music led him to that stage in Helena, Montana.

Aside from his own recordings, Boots Randolph has provided saxophone session work for countless artists. Three years before his Monument hit release of "Yakety Sax," RCA Victor issued the first "Yakety Sax" LP, but without success. In recent years the tune has become the familiar theme music for TV's "Benny Hill." In 1959, RCA released a Boots Randolph single showing the artist as Randy Randolph. Oddly enough, Boots has a son named Randy. Boots is a native of Evansville, Indiana.

RAY OF COUNTRY SUN, A .....	ABC-Paramount (S) ABCS-539*	2 12 66
WALK SOFTLY (& OTHER COUNTRY SONGS) .....	Camden (S) CAS-2107	2 12 66

In the 1920's Wade Ray was a teenage musician out on his own. He hitched and rode freights from town to town, often playing his fiddle for meals in restaurants along his route. In 1931, Wade's first real break came when he was asked to join Pappy Cheshire's National Champion Hillbillies on KMOX, in St. Louis. Wade stayed with Pappy as a featured singer-fiddler and musical director until 1943 when he entered the Army. Out of khaki and back in cowboy boots, Wade joined The Prairie Ramblers, formally known as The Kentucky Ramblers, on WLS, Chicago, a spot which he held until 1949. The Prairie Ramblers are best known for their recordings and shows with Patsy Montana.

Although not quite achieving the fame of Gene Autry & Roy Rogers, Tex Ritter was still one of the most popular singing cowboys to ever ride across the silver screen. Who can ever forget his haunting "Do Not faw-sake me oh my darling," lyrics from his classic song "High Noon," as heard in the Gary Cooper film? Tex's son, Jonathan, has carried on the family name, starring for years in TV's "Three's Company" and more recently in "Three's A Crowd." Tex Ritter was inducted into the Country Music Hall Of Fame in 1964, becoming the first singing cowboy so honored.

Few country singers, better yet...few singers of any style, are blessed with a more beautiful or versatile voice than was Marty Robbins. He has to be included on anyone's list of favorite country and western singers. Marty, grew up with seven brothers and sisters in Glendale, Arizona, a Phoenix suburb. As a young singer he performed at small clubs around the Phoenix area. He also made his first television appearances on the popular Lew King Show. It was on the King show that Marty would later share the spotlight with another Phoenix youngster who was also destined for superstardom; Wayne Newton. During one of his performances, Marty was spotted by Little Jimmy Dickens who promptly interested Columbia Records in signing him. In 1952, Columbia issued his first single, "Love Me Or Leave Me Alone" / "Tomorrow You'll Be Gone," but it was Marty's third release, "I'll Go On Alone," that put him on the charts. The tune, also written by Robbins, was a top 10 hit on the country hit list and was covered for the pop market by Eddy Howard in January, 1953. For the 26 years that followed his first hit, there were only two years during which Marty failed to have a top 10 record (1955 & 1975). The Robbins style was pure country for the first few releases, but his 1954 recording of "That's All Right" introduced a dash of rockabilly. His legendary "Rock'N Roll'N Robbins" 10-inch LP kept pace with the 1956 music that was sweeping the planet, and featured Marty's surprising rendition of "Long Tall Sally." Quite noteworthy is the fact that this LP is among the most valuable entries in this guide, with near-mint copies recently selling in the $400-$600 range! In 1960, Marty's lengthy (by 1960 standards) cowboy saga of "El Paso" opened the door for several albums of western songs. Never had the story songs of the old west seen such success, especially with pop music audiences. Actually, "El Paso" was performed by a trio consisting of Marty, Jim Glaser & Bobby Sykes. The track also featured Grady Martin on guitar. For a brief period, Floyd Cramer played piano for Marty. Jim Farmer started playing steel guitar for Marty when they were first starting out in Phoenix. Farmer is still working for Marty Robbins Enterprises. Jack Pruett, husband of Jeanne Pruett, was with Marty's band for many years and has recently joined Ronny Robbins' group. Don Winters & Bobby Sykes had been with Marty for over 20 years when he passed away. Marty also used both The Jordanaires & The Anita Kerr Singers for back-up vocals. He was backed by both the Mitch Miller and the Ray Conniff orchestras from time to time. Marty was honored with the unique distinction of being the last person to perform at the Ryman Auditorium and the first to play on the stage of the new Grand Ole Opry House. He made his first appearance in early 1952, becoming an official member on January 19, 1953. Marty was inducted into the Country Music Hall Of Fame in 1982. As with Elvis, Jim Reeves, Johnny Horton & others who possessed miraculous voices but whose lives were tragically shortened, Marty Robbins' legacy is best found within the grooves of his recordings.

In 1961, Jimmie Rodgers became the first singer to be named to the Country Music Hall Of Fame. Perhaps there is little else that need be said about the impact "The Father Of Country Music" has had on those who followed him in this music form. Note also the incredible number of tribute recordings to The Singing Brakeman contained within this book's pages.

John Raoul Davis Rodriguez was born in Sabinal, Texas on December 10, 1951, one of 10 children. In Sabinal, about 90 miles from the Mexican border, Johnny grew up in two distinct cultures. It was through his older brothers that he learned to love country music while at the same he was also getting a steady diet of rock music from his teenage friends. At 16, Johnny formed a rock & roll band, playing mostly local events. The following year he landed a job playing the Alamo Village Amusement Park, where he was heard by Tom T. Hall & Bobby Bare who were on tour in Texas. Soon Rodriguez was fronting for Hall in his road band, The Storytellers. In 1972, Mercury Records (who also had Tom T. Hall & Bobby Bare) signed Johnny Rodriguez and his first release, "Pass Me By," went top 10. And so this 21 year old Texan became Nashville's first Mexican-American star, a valuable addition to a music field wherein minorities were once conspicuously absent.

All of the First Edition members were formerly with the popular folk group, The New Christy Minstrels. Mickey Jones, their drummer, was also with Bob Dylan, Trini Lopez & Johnny Rivers before joining the First Edition. In addition to doing vocals, Kenny Rogers played bass in this group. As with a few other crossover artists in this book, Jerry Lee Lewis, Conway Twitty, Jerry Wallace & Brenda Lee to name a few, enough interest by country music collectors in Kenny's earlier pop/rock LPs warrants a complete listing.

WHEN I GET MY WINGS .....	Capricorn (S) 0171	1	8	76

Billy Joe Shaver hails from Corsicana, Texas, a city of about 30,000 located 50 miles south of Dallas on I45. His mother was a honky-tonk girl, who worked the clubs in the Dallas-Waco area. She was a real inspiration to young Billy Joe. He also got a lot of encouragement from his grandmother. "She would take me down to the grocery store with her and whenever we'd get a little behind on our credit she'd ask the woman to extend it. She'd say she would if she'd get that little boy to sing. Then they'd put me up on a cracker barrel or somethin' and I'd sing my heart out," recalls Billy Joe. Years later, after working as a rodeo cowboy, gas station attendant and at a sawmill (where he lost his fingers in an accident) he impressed Bobby Bare with his songwriting talents and was signed by Bare. In 1973, Waylon Jennings paid tribute to Billy Joe by recording an entire LP of his songs, "Honky Tonk Hereos."

The son of a construction welder and country musician, Ricky Lee Skaggs was born July 18, 1954 and raised along Brushy Creek in Cordell, Kentucky. It was from these same Eastern Kentucky hills that Loretta Lynn (as well as the other singing stars from her family), The Osborne Brothers & Tom T. Hall were brought up. Ricky learned to sing from his mother and to play the mandolin from his dad, who started him at age five. In fact it was at that age, in 1959, that Ricky appeared on stage with Bill Monroe during a concert in Martha, Kentucky. At seven, he got his first paying job, appearing on Flatt & Scruggs Nashville TV show. Around this same time, Ricky was being greatly influenced by The Stanley Brothers. After the death of Carter Stanley, Ralph Stanley hired Ricky, then 15, for the band. The years with Ralph provided Skaggs with an unparalleled bluegrass baptism. Next, Ricky was recruited by The Country Gentlemen followed by J.D. Crowe & The New South. Following that, Ricky formed the band Boone Creek. By the time he was 25, he was widely known as a quality musician possessing multi-instrument abilities. In late 1977, Emmylou Harris asked him to join her Hot Band. In the fall of 1980 Ricky moved to Nashville. At the time he had been playing fiddle for The Whites who were based out of Music City. On August 4, 1981, Ricky wed Sharon White, of The Whites. They now have three children. In June, 1982, Ricky was inducted as the Grand Ole Opry's youngest member. Ricky's "Highways & Heartaches" was one of the first LPs chosen by CBS for release on compact disc. His 1984 hit version of "Uncle Penn" became the highest charted bluegrass single of all time.

Connie Smith, the singing housewife from tiny Warner, Ohio, was originally from Elkhart, Indiana, born there on August 8, 1941. She was discovered by Bill Anderson who happened to see her dressed in a homemade cowgirl suit performing at a Columbus talent show. Bill rushed her off to Music City, and to Chet Atkins at RCA. The label signed her in 1964 and her first recording, "Once A Day," became a huge hit that year. A French language version of "Once A Day" became equally popular in French speaking Quebec, Canada.

Jerry Smith's piano style is as distinctive, in its own way, as Floyd Cramer's. The first time most of us heard Jerry was on "Lil' Ole Me," a 1961 regional instrumental hit, released as by Cornbread & Jerry (I still don't know who "Cornbread" was). In 1963, his keyboard artistry was vital to the Dixiebelles' hits "Down At Papa Joe's" and "Southtown U.S.A." He scored with a few hits of his own, beginning in 1969 with "Truck Stop."

Although Hank originally built his reputation in Canada, in no time at all he surpassed his Canadian fame in the States. Born March 9, 1914 in Liverpool, Nova Scotia, his childhood and circumstances leading up to his stardom followed an uneasy path. At 12, Hank shipped out as a cabin boy on a fishing schooner. When he was 15 he hired on as a lumberjack, with subsequent jobs as a fish packer, lobster peddler, stevedore, newsboy, insurance salesman and Fuller Brush man. With a keen interest in music, Hank worked his way to Halifax to audition for a radio job, which was an overwhelming success. His first commercial radio broadcast was in 1936 over station CHNS. The following year he was signed by RCA Victor Canada and his first recordings were made. Finally, in 1944, U.S. audiences got to hear Snow as he began broadcasting over stations WCAU and WIP in Philadelphia. In 1948, he made his first U.S. tour and the following year his first record was released here. Hank Snow's record of longevity with one company, RCA Victor, will probably never be equalled by any artist. Hank was inducted into the Country Music Hall Of Fame in 1979. Hank's son, Jimmie Rodgers Snow, recorded a few tracks for RCA in the early fifties.

So often the term "country & western" is used to describe any and all forms of both country music and western music, although they usually are two completely different fields of music. If folks like Hank Williams & George Jones epitomize country music, then western music is defined within the grooves of the above Sons Of The Pioneers recordings. They invented western harmony! The Sons appeared in countless films many with Roy Rogers, who is now the only surviving member of the original trio. The Sons Of The Pioneers were inducted into the Country Music Hall Of Fame in 1980.

Larry Sparks was born in Lebanon, Ohio on September 25, 1947. He learned the guitar and mandolin while still a teenager. At 16, Larry joined The Stanley Brothers on some of their tour dates. After the death of Larry's friend Carter Stanley, he became the lead vocalist in The Clinch Mountain Boys, who were now performing with Ralph Stanley. In 1969 Larry left Stanley to form his own group, The Lonesome Ramblers. Included in this first group was Joe Isaacs, on banjo, and Larry's sister Bernice. Future Lonesome Ramblers' personnel would include Mike Lilly (banjo), Tommy Boyd (dobro), Joe Meadows (fiddle), Dave Evans (banjo), Wendy Miller (mandolin), Tim Maynard (banjo) & Larry's son Larry Sparks II (bass).

Joe Stampley, was born (June 6, 1943) and raised in Springhill, Louisiana, where at 15 he became friends with local dee jay Merle Kilgore. The two future stars first worked together writing songs, but in 1958 Merle was able to land a recording deal for Joe with Imperial Records. A few months later, Imperial issued "Glenda" & "We're Through" as Joe's debut single. The disc sold well in his hometown, but wasn't much of a hit elsewhere. Six years later, in early '65, Joe was singing lead with the rock group The Uniques. They recorded a Stampley-Kilgore composition titled "Not Too Long Ago," which placed them on most every Top Forty playlist in the country. Their follow-up release, "All These Things," was a moderate hit but also their last charted record. Both of these tunes were re-recorded by Joe years later, with "All These Things" reaching number one on the Country chart in 1976, 10 years after its original release by The Uniques. Joe's rock roots are evident in many of his recordings. He and Billy "Crash" Craddock led a field of "country-rockers" who, in the seventies, injected a fifties flavor into their songs. Most of Joe Stampley's success in the eighties is as result of his teaming with fellow CBS artist Moe Bandy as Moe & Joe.

Prior to the emergence of The Oak Ridge Boys and Alabama, The Statler Brothers simply owned every country award for a country vocal group. Aside from their varied vocal abilities, the Reid brothers, Don & Harold, have written most of the group's hits. Lew DeWitt left the group and was replaced by Jimmy Fortune. In the early years, The Statler Brothers toured with The Johnny Cash Show. As a gospel group, they were once known as The Kingsmen.

For some strange reason, it's very difficult to find any country music performers who WERE NOT born into a large family. Gary Stewart, like most of his peers, was one of "eight or nine children" (he's not sure of the exact count). Gary grew up in Letcher County, Kentucky. "I was raised on Elvis, Ray Price, Jerry Lee Lewis, Chuck Berry & others. There were many who influenced me," recalls Gary. During his teens, he played in a rock & roll band. During one of his appearances at the Okeechobee club, The Wagon Wheel, he was spotted by Mel Tillis. Mel gave Stewart the encouragement to move to Nashville and to work on his songwriting. Within two years, a half-dozen of Gary's songs were hits for the likes of Billy Walker, Jim Ed Brown, Jack Greene, Cal Smith, Jimmy Dean & others. Yearning to perform hit songs as well as write them, he returned to the stage playing piano in Nat Stuckey's band. Next, he was hired as a pianist and frontman for Charley Pride's show. In 1973, Stewart left Charley Pride's band and struck off on a solo career, immediately scoring with several giant country hits.

As a teenager, Sylvia made regular visits to The Little Nashville Opry, a country show staged about 80 miles south of her hometown, Kokomo, Indiana. There she sketched portraits of visiting country stars, like Dolly Parton, Tanya Tucker & Barbara Mandrell. This peripheral exposure to the music industry was enough to motivate this lovely young Hoosier, then 19, to move to Nashville. The year was 1976, and she'd heard about an opening for a girl singer with Dave & Sugar. Sylvia auditioned but was runner-up to Mellisa Dean for the position. This effort, however, was not for naught. She did catch the attention of RCA who signed her in 1979. She began touring with Charley Pride that same year. Oddly enough, she is not the first "Sylvia" to record. Sylvia Vanderpoole, first popular in 1957 with Mickey Baker as Mickey & Sylvia, has had a string of soul music hits over the past decade.

TAYLOR-GOOD, Karen

LP
KAREN TAYLOR-GOOD .....	Mesa (S) 1111	1 8	84
Following a pattern closely resembling the career moves of Janie Fricke, Karen Taylor-Good also came up through the ranks of jingle singing and background vocal work. Her voice has been heard on commercials for McDonald's, Taco Bell, United Airlines, Coors, Peter Pan and others. Karen's back-up vocals have appeared on recordings by such stars as Barbara Mandrell, Conway Twitty, Merle Haggard, George Jones and T.G. Sheppard, to cite just a few. When the decision was made to launch Karen's own career, Mesa Records was formed and she became their one and only artist.

Waco born (September 3, 1925) Hank Thompson is another one of that tiny group of country music stars who have managed to perform and record in five decades. Beginning in the mid-forties and continuing through the fifties, Hank and his Brazos Valley Boys were the definitive western dance band. They were truly in a class by themselves. A representative sampling of Hank Thompson's albums is essential to any country/western music collection.

Sue Thompson may be the only country singer (her vocal style makes it impossible to categorize her otherwise) in this book that became popular, including a gold record award for "Norman," without ever having a hit on the national C&W charts. Her teen appeal of her lyrics, however, made her one of the early sixties top female singers. In the early seventies, she performed duets with Don Gibson, several of which did chart. Sue married country singer Hank Penny.

Mel Tillis, who turned his stuttering into a comedy element which has become his trademark, has not always been the country singer that we've known since the mid-sixties. Like many of the stars in this book, Mel was rockin' & rollin' in the fifties. Listen to his Columbia recordings of "Hearts Of Stone" or "Teen Age Wedding" and hear a long forgotten side of Mel Tillis.

Ernest Dale Tubb, like so many of his peers, was strongly influenced by the legendary Jimmie Rodgers. Ernie was singing the songs of Rodgers as he criss-crossed the country doing one-night stands during the Great Depression and into the war years. In 1940, Tubb signed a recording contract with Decca, an affiliation that lasted until 1979. In 1941 his recording of "Walking The Floor Over You" rocketed him to stardom. The tune became a million-selling country classic. Tubb made two cowboy films in 1942 and the exposure lead to his being signed to the Grand Ole Opry the following year. He continued playing the Opry and doing the road shows right into the 1980s. Ernest Tubb was inducted into the Country Music Hall Of Fame in 1965. Tubb was born February 9, 1914 in Crisp, Texas, a tiny crossroads settlement clustered around a cotton gin, about 40 miles south of Dallas. About 70 and one-half years later, at Baptist Hospital in Nashville, E.T., as his friends called him, died of emphysema and related complications. And so "Hillbilly Heaven" opened its gates to receive a true country music pioneer...Ernest Tubb.

Conway Twitty, born in Friar's Point, Mississippi (September 1, 1933), arrived at his stage name by combining the names of Conway, Arkansas and Twitty, Texas. As most everyone knows, Conway was one of rock music's top stars from 1958-1961. Recording first for Mercury then with much greater success on MGM, there was little country music in Conway's repertoire until he joined Decca in 1965. The changeover to a country music style from his earlier efforts was drastic for Conway & His Twitty Birds, although as successful, perhaps more so, as any of the former rock singers. Conway has not forgotten those early smash hits that made him famous, though, as evidenced by his stage shows. I've yet to see a Conway Twitty performance that failed to include "It's Only Make Believe."

In 1967, Norma Jean departed the Porter Wagoner Show to pursue other interests, creating the need for a girl singer. Dolly Parton filled the vacancy and, unlike Porter & Norma, the new twosome began to score with hit after hit. Conway & Loretta may have been the country duet of the decade (seventies) but Porter & Dolly held the crown from 1967-1971. The team was split when Dolly embarked on her solo care

Kitty Wells holds the distinction of being the first female country star to have both a million-seller and a number one single. The song, "It Wasn't God Who Made Honky-Tonk Angels," released in the summer of 1952, was an answer song to Hank Thompson's monster hit, "The Wild Side Of Life." The tune could very well be the biggest answer song ever, in any field of music. Kitty married singer Johnny Wright and they have a son, Bobby, who has also recorded. Kitty is one of the few country music greats born in Music City, August 30, 1919. She was inducted into the Country Music Hall Of Fame in 1976.

YODELING .....United Artists (S) LM-1005 1 6

Slim Whitman, born January 20, 1924 in Tampa, cut his first record in 1948, had his first Top Five hit, "Indian Love Call," in 1952, and has not stopped recording hits and touring since. Slim's son, Byron, now in his mid-twenties, is traveling with the band and has joined his famous father on vocals on the recent LP "Angeline." Between tours, Slim returns to his home in Middleberg, Florida, not far from where he was born on January 24, 1924. Looking back, there was little in his early years to indicate a career in music was forthcoming. He was working in a meat packing plant shortly before the outbreak of World War II. It was there he met his wife of forty plus years, Jerry. After a three year stint in the Navy, Slim tried his hand, or should we say arm, at professional baseball as a pitcher in the Orange Belt League. Whitman's next job was as a shipyard worker in Tampa. It was a co-worker at the yards that first encouraged Slim to turn professional with his music after hearing him singing and yodeling on the job. The opportunity to do just that came in 1948 when the shipyards shut down. A band was formed, using Slim as the frontman and lead singer. The group was heard by Col. Tom Parker, then managing Eddy Arnold, who brought them to the attention of RCA Victor, who signed Slim right away. His first tune recorded was the Whitman Band theme song, "I'm Castin' My Lasso Toward The Sky." Bookings came from both the Grand Ole Opry and The Louisiana Hayride, but a much needed hit record was still eluding the band. For a time, Slim took a job as a mail carrier in Shreveport to support his wife and new daughter, Sharon. In 1952, Slim moved to Imperial Records and immediately joined Fats Domino as one of Imperial's two most popular acts. Five years later Ricky Nelson would sign with Imperial, giving them a major talent in country, rock & roll and rhythm & blues markets. Slim Whitman was honored as the first country & western artist ever to appear at the famed London Palladium, in 1956. Since then Slim's popularity has been as great, often greater, overseas than in his homeland.

Don Williams, together with Susan Taylor & Lofton Kline, formed the sixties pop/folk group The Pozo Seco Singers. As this group's LPs are of great interest to Don Williams collectors, they are included here. Williams hails from Plainview, Texas, born there May 27, 1939.

Randall Hank Williams, Jr. has certainly carried on the family name, achieving worldwide acclaim in the music that claims his famous father as its greatest star. Listeners in the mid-sixties, when Hank Jr. was just getting started, were absolutely amazed how much young "Bocephus" was able to sound like his father. In fact, some thought that "Nobody's Child" was an old Hank Williams, Sr. track that had finally been discovered. Over the years Hank Jr. has broadened his style, sometimes sounding like daddy but just as often turning out tunes that Hank Sr. would have never thought of doing. Hank Jr. is a talented musician as those who've seen his live show know. He plays every instrument on the stage.

Otis Williams was the lead singer of the mid-fifties rhythm & blues group The Charms. The lead song on this 1971 LP pretty well summed up the desires of Otis and his new band, The Midnight Cowboys: "If Jerry Lee and Conway did it...then I can too. I Want To Go Country!" By the way, this is not the same Otis Williams who performed with the Temptations.

Surprisingly, Sheb has totaled up greater record sales in his role of boozier Ben Colder than as himself. The Colder staple has been doing parodies of other people's hits and, over the years, no one has been more successful at it. As Sheb Wooley he has given us some comedy too, with such novelty tunes as "The Purple People Eater," "That's My Pa" & "That's My Ma."

Virginia Wynette Pugh was born on May 5, 1942 on her grandfather's 600 acre cotton farm in Itawamba County, Mississippi. "Our property crossed the state line," explains Tammy, "so I tell people my top half comes from Mississippi and my bottom half comes from Alabama...and if they're not happy, turn me around." Tammy's father, a local musician, died of a brain tumor when she was just eight years old. At that age, Tammy was already working in the cotton fields. With an interest in music inspired by her father, Tammy formed a trio that appeared on a local radio station. "I dreamed of being a singer," she recalls, "but I also wanted to be a housewife and mother, like my girlfriends." A few years and a broken teen-age marriage later, Tammy enrolled in beauty school classes in nearby Tupelo. To this day, Tammy keeps her beautician's license current. "Having it means I can always go back to hair-dressing," laughs the Country Music Queen. After a risky move to Nashville, Tammy was discovered by CBS/Epic's Billy Sherrill. Even though Sherrill's stable of talent is awesome, he still regards Tammy as his greatest discovery. Together they've recorded over 60 singles and 40 albums. After a brief marriage to songwriter Don Chapel that ended in an annulment, she married George Jones. The year was 1969, and for the next six years she and George lived, sang, recorded, toured and performed together in an often stormy, much-publicized relationship that was marred by Jones' heavy drinking. They had one child, Tamela Georgette. The Jones & Wynette set parted company in 1975, each re-marrying within the few years that followed. Tammy's current husband is George Richey, although she is still friends, as well as an occasional singing partner, with Jones. Recently, Tammy's story was chronicled in her autobiography "Stand By Your Man."

BUYER-SELLER DIRECTORY

The following pages are jam-packed with personal and business ads, certain to be useful and appealing to anyone with an interest in music collecting.

Each of the Osborne publications offer an outstanding opportunity for those in the hobby to cost-effectively spread the word worldwide about their products and services. Equally popular is the ability, particularly through the Directory Mini-Ads, to locate those elusive records for your collection.

Directory Mini-Ads are the absolute best advertising buy available anywhere. The cost is amazingly low and the results have proven to be spectacular.

Call or write the Jellyroll office for complete details on advertising in the upcoming Osborne guides. We'll do for you what we've done for hundreds of others! Also, take a close look at the ads in this edition. We think there's something for everyone. Also, when responding, tell them you saw their ad in Osborne's "COUNTRY MUSIC."

Thank you!

BUYING? SELLING?

Thousands of records for sale in each issue!

Now that you know the values of C&W records, you need a marketplace to buy and sell them. GOLDMINE is that marketplace!

GOLDMINE readers appreciate music of the past — and present. They actively seek out records of bygone artists and defunct labels as well as artists long-remembered and still popular such as Hank Williams, Johnny Cash, Waylon Jennings, Kitty Wells, Willie Nelson and today's new country artists.

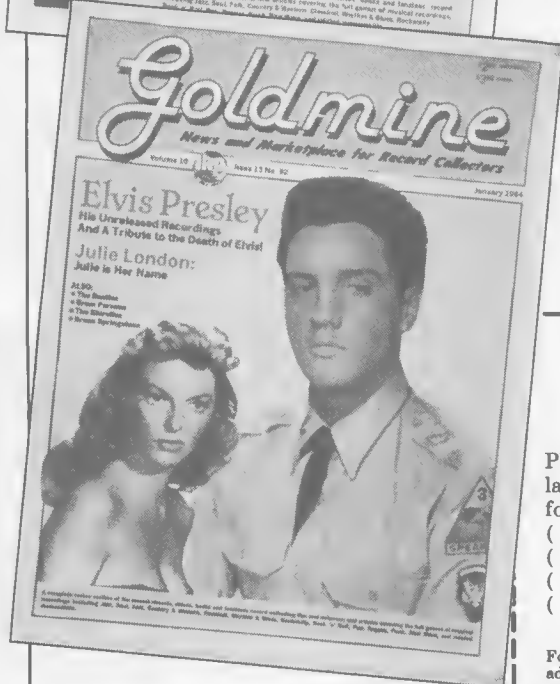

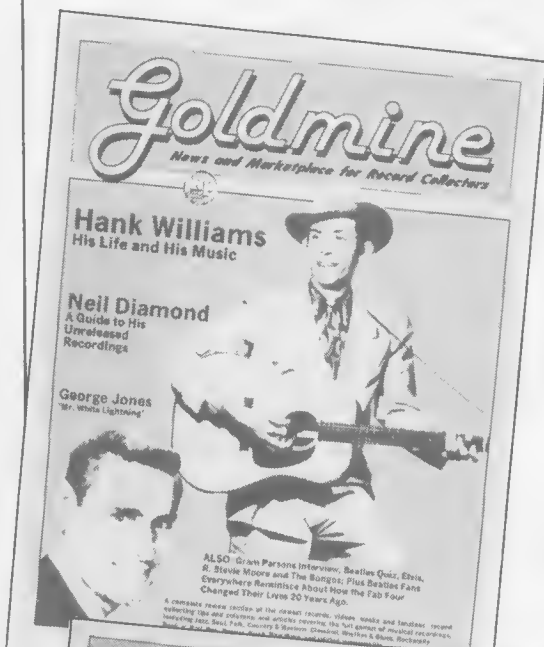

If you enjoy reading about music history, GOLDMINE's writers provide you with in-depth interviews and articles on a wide range of performers of all types of music. You also will find a discography detailing each artist or group's record output throughout their careers. Whenever possible, these are accompanied by an updated value guide.

We feature tips on preserving your record collection, a record show calendar alerting you in advance of record shows coming up in your local area and special columns on all types of music from country & western and rock to The Beatles and Elvis.

Each issue of GOLDMINE has thousands of records for sale. You'll be able to find what you're looking for from GOLDMINE's many advertisers. If you can't, you can write directly to the dealers with your wants. Most dealers have tens of thousands of records in stock and simply cannot list them all in every ad they run.

Whether you're an active collector or just enjoy reading about music of the past and present, you'll find something of interest in each issue of GOLDMINE.

Subscribe today for as little as $1.09 per issue. Start enjoying your record collection even more with GOLDMINE!

Find The Record You Need In Seconds!

At NOSTALGIA CORRUGATED we sell Organization! If it takes you hours to find the record you want, then you need us. We were the originators of the first custom-sized corrugated record cases and dividers on the market.

Because we are serious collectors ourselves, we remain committed to the ongoing development and improvement of our products.

*Comparative tests of products offered by our primary competitors show that our LP box design requires nearly 10 more square feet to manufacture. The result, more cushion and protection with over 2 additional square feet of board per box.

Our design avoids you the frustrating, confusing, and puzzle-like assembly of other brands available. Consider also, that NOSTALGIA CORRUGATED LP boxes utilize stronger - sturdier board. Sample tests show average bursting strength of our LP box at 303 pounds per square inch, theirs at just 237 P.S.I.

Our boxes come in an attractive flat white finish and can be stacked 3, 4, & 5-up easily without risking collapse. The LP case holds 75 LPs, the 45 case holds 150 singles. Both units were heat-tested in the desert Southwest to withstand high outside temperatures.

Our new and improved divider cards are white in color and plastic coated for longer life. These cards won't bury your records and are designed for easy scan. They'll accommodate standard office stick-on labels and are easy to stagger with a glossy and flat finish. These washable cards are even resistant to grease, oil, and fingerprints.

When you're ready to organize, file, and protect your valuable record collection, trust NOSTALGIA CORRUGATED for the best quality and value for your money.

Now! A Newspaper Devoted to Your Favorite Sounds from the '50s and '60s

Do you collect original-issue 45s and LPs? Did your introduction to popular music come from an AM radio blasting hit tunes, doo-wops, blues and rockabilly? Then there's a newspaper around that you should know about.

It's called Record Collector's Monthly, and it's put together by collectors who share your interest in yesterday's vinyl treasures. What's more, it's lively reading. We've tackled controversial topics — like bootlegging, RIAA raids, and record industry practices that hurt collectors. Our regular reports on used-record dealers and convention happenings keep you aware of the collector's marketplace nationwide.

Every issue contains feature articles on collectible artists and record labels, regular columns by knowledgeable collectors, and up-to-date record convention listings. Then there are pages and pages of set-sales and record auctions! New opportunities come every month to add those special "wants" to your collection when you buy from and trade with other collectors and dealers around the country.

Sound good so far? Then a one-time $3.00 trial subscription can get you on our mailing list for four big issues. Or skip the preliminaries and plunge right in: $12.00 signs you up for a full year. (Overseas collectors: write first for airmail subscription rates).

Please send all subscription requests to:

Record Collector's Monthly
P.O. Box 23, Dept. JRP
Essex Fells, NJ 07021

All back issues remain available for $1.00 each postpaid. Special prices for complete sets or bulk purchases...write for full details. Current issue available only with subscription.

LEFTY FRIZZELL »HIS LIFE — HIS MUSIC« — BFX 15100[15]

Listen to 239 Lefty Songs from 1950-1974, on this 14-LP De-Luxe Box. 50 of these tracks have never been on record before, and are released here for the first time. Another 66 songs were never released on an album before. Read about his life. Learn about his recording history when you check the discography with all recording details. Take a look at the many rare pictures. Be fascinated by the reproduction of his first »Souvenir Album«. All this and more is included in the enclosed 128-page book written by Charles Wolfe. Each album is individually sleeved in a Full-Four-Color-Cover. Included are almost all Columbia masters and all ABC recordings. In addition we have included a number of demos, some of these pre-date his first Columbia recordings. You also will hear rare live recordings.

This set is not only a must for the Lefty fan but also for the serious collector of country music, since it traces back the music of today's superstars »Merle Haggard,« Moe Bandy, »John Anderson,« »Willie Nelson« and many more.

COMMENTS ON THE BOX SET: COLIN ESCOTT [Journalist]: You have certainly set a new standard by which box sets are measured. WALLY WHYTON [BBC, London]: I'm almost at a loss for words over the Lefty re-issue. I've talked to friends in all kinds of music and your box-set just has to be the greatest tribute ever to any artist in the field of music. BOB ALLEN [Journalist]: I'm overwhelmed. DON ROY [Journalist]: Very impressive. It's the most de-luxe set I've ever seen. HANK DAVIS [Artist & Journalist]: The box-set what can I say? Sensational. It's really a shame that he never lived to see it. The fotos on each sleeve are glorious. BARRY FELDMAN [Polygram A & R re-issues]: It's incredible — fantastic — wonderful. STEVE HOFFMAN [MCA A & R re-issues]: The Lefty package is great. AL CUNNIFF [Journalist]: I thought it was an excellent work, with respect to its scholarship, the details provided, and the rare photos of Lefty that are enclosed. FRANK SCOTT [Downhome Music]: I'm really impressed with the production and overall high quality, not to mention the music. It must have cost a fortune to produce — I hope it sells enough to warrant the expense. It's certainly one of the best produced box sets of all time. J. BONNER [proud owner of the set]: I would like to offer my warmest congratulations and thanks for the excellent job you have done putting together such a beautiful tribute to one of the finest Country singers of all time. ARTHUR BAIRSTO [proud owner of the set]: Thank you for the work you put into what must have been a labor of love. BOB PINSON [Country Music Foundation]: That Frizzell set's a monster.

BOB WILLS »PAPA'S JUMPIN' — THE MGM YEARS« — BFX 15179[5]

Listen to 99 Bob Wills Songs from 1947-1954 that he recorded for MGM, on this 5-LP De-Luxe Box. 7 of these tracks have never been on record before, and are released here for the first time. Another 53 songs were never released on an album before. A book with extensive notes by Rich Kienzie about his MGM Years are included, plus a MGM discography with all recording details. Take a look at the rare pictures. Each album is individually sleeved in a Full-Four-Color-Cover.

This set is not only a must for the Bob Wills fan but also for the serious collector of western swing and country music.

ABOUT BOB WILLS: WAYLON JENNINGS: Bob Wills is still the king. CHARLES R. TOWNSEND: Wills created western swing, a dynamic hybrid of New Orleans jazz, blues, and folk fiddle music. MERLE HAGGARD: Very few entertainers can be credited with creating a type of music, but Bob Wills did just that! It is called Western Swing. RAY BENSON [ASLEEP AT THE WHEEL]: The music of Bob Wills is the basis for much of the material that we perform. WILLIE NELSON: Until Hank Williams came along, it was just Bob Wills. ... I have been an admirer of Bob Wills all of my life. DON LAW: Bob was a unique and dynamic personality. NEW YORK TIMES: A super-giant before there were super-giants, an Elvis Presley of the nineteen-thirties and forties.

Ray Noble Price was born January 12, 1926 on a farm near Perryville, Texas. Although he attended North Texas Agricultural College, near Dallas, intending to be a veterinarian, his early success as a singer-musician made him realize his calling was music rather than mammals. His first recordings were for Bullet Records, but were not popular outside Texas. The promotion and handling of this new talent would require the expertise of a much larger label though, and in 1950 Ray was signed by Columbia.

Artist's name. Also shown here is band name, even if only a touring band and not normally shown on the recordings. Any other names the artist has recorded under are also given.

Label & full catalog number of every known U.S. record album.

Stereo coding indicates LPs are in true stereo (ST), Electronic stereo (SE), Monaural (M) or partly in true stereo (SP). Vital information to the "stereo" collector.

Special designation to indicate that an LP was simultaneously issued in both monaural & in stereo. A common practice among record labels from around 1958 to 1968.

Loaded with informative and educational footnotes that will make an expert out of you in no time!

Year of release.

Range of current values on the collectors' market, shown for copies graded from "Good" to "Near-Mint." Average, or "Very Good" copies would be about halfway between the low and high column.

Separate sections for each artist's own releases; for any duet recordings that feature the artist; and for any compilation (Various Artists) LPs that contain the artist and are within the scope of this edition.

Extensive cross-referencing quickly takes you to other sections of the guide where the artist is featured in any capacity.

All Long Play (LP) and Extended Play (EP) listings are grouped separately for easy reference.

Large and easy to read typesets throughout.
